Pi Lambda Phi Ranked as Favorite
Senior House Runs Up 104 Points

Pi Lambda Phi leads the list of likely to be the finalists as the Intramural basketball season draws to a close. The Pi Lams boasting a superior record will carry the League I banner into the playoffs.

Grad House A seems to be the top squad in League II. The Grads, also undefeated, have a balanced attack and rate as a strong contender for the crown.

The championships of Leagues III and IV have already been decided with Lambda Chi Alpha and Phi Kappa Sigma holding the honors.

Other leading contenders for the intramural championships are Sigma Chi, Baker House, and Alpha Epsilon Pi. All three of these teams have yet to taste defeat. However, Baker and AEPi are in the same Leagues and meet each other in the near future.

Sixteen teams will compete in the finals. Those teams will consist of the top five squads in each of the eight Leagues. A drawing will be held in the near future to determine playoff positions.

Varsity Simmers Rout Tufts 63-19
In Season's Opener

The opening swimming meet against Tufts was highlighted by many substitutions which were made to determine the depth and versatility of the team. The results were quite surprising.

Topping the surprises was the performance turned in by Roger Cooke, '61, who scored 47 points, the Senior House team captured its fourth straight and most lopsided victory of the season and now rates as a darkhorse in the title race.

In previous games they had defeated Phi Delta Theta by the scores of 55-39, Baker House 49-44, and Delta Tau Delta, 54-17. In Tuesday's game, however, only four men placed in with at least ten points each, and this plan top rebuffing produced the rout.

Beaver — Crimson Basketball Game;
Old Rivalry Renewed Sat. Evening

By C. H. Kais

Tomorrow evening at 8:15 the Beaver cagers will run up against the Harvard squad in their opening home appearance of the season. The action will take place in Rockefeller Cage which has been fitted with a new basketball floor for use during the 1959-60 season. Also, for the spectator's pleasure, there are new seating arrangements.

The two teams opened season with a loss to Trinity last Saturday. Although set back by the 79-58 blasting, they have been carefully coached by Captain Hugh Morrow, '60, and this team that bears little resemblance to their predecessors. They succeeded in dropping their first game to Wesleyan and it appears that they have not yet utilized their usual coordination and speed.

MIT, on the other hand, has a new coach who has been leading the team through its paces and really giving the squad a work out. One of the biggest problems the coach faces is the fact that there is only one returning letterman, Captain Hugh Morrow, '60, who is turning in an excellent performance.

The Beavers have many exciting prospects including John Danielman, '61, Ted Hailey, '60, Al Gaston, '61, and several sophomores, all of whom will probably see action against Harvard.

All in all the MIT-Harvard game will certainly be action packed, and remember, admission is free.

Sir, if it hasn't got it there, it hasn't got it to!

Old Dr. Sam has done it again — brought his dictionary up to date in terms of modern usage.

Winston (winn'ston), n. A cigarette with filterblend on one end and a wise man on the other.

Twist (tizt), n. What decorators argue about. About and Winston smokers enjoy.

Filterblend (filter-blend), n. A happy marriage of art and science. Light, mild, and this filter blend is to be found.

Front (frunt), n. (used in conjunction with the preposition "by"). The section of a filter cigarette where it hasn't got it, it hasn't got it. Also, the section that counts, the section where exclusive filterblend is to be found.

Boswell (bMz'wel). Nickname for a guy who is always hanging around to cudge Winston from you.

"There is nothing which has yet been contrived by man by which so much happiness is produced ..."
