UAP Candidates Present Statements

to run. Undertaking the duties of the Undergraduate Association presidency will entail my sacrificing many responsibilities which I have to my living group and to other activities. Nothing, however, could be more important to me than the presidency of the MIT undergraduate body. I am fully aware of the need for the UAP to be efficient, responsible, approachable, and, most important, faithful to the trust bestowed upon him by election. Paramount in the qualifications of the UAP is his ability to represent the ideas and sentiments of the students to the administration and to the public.

Vittek's Statement

"I do not choose to actively campaign for office since there are no issues of any importance, and none foreseeable, which are worth discussing for every minute of the next two weeks. However, I feel that my background as class president and as a member of IotaComm qualifies me to deal with any situations which might arise." (Editor's note: The statements of these three candidates were listed impartially in alphabetical order. Osha's declaration was printed in The Tech of February 17.)

Deadline for filing petitions is this afternoon, and the election will be held March 14.
