Sturbridge Train Trip Highlights
Student Centennial Celebration

By Jeff Travers '64

Last weekend over 1,000 Techmen and their dates at tended the student Centennial celebration. The whirl of planned social events commenced Friday night, April 21, with the Centennial Ball, a formal dance held in Rockwell Cage, and ran through Saturday. A total ride to Old Sturbridge Village and an evening jazz concert highlighted Saturday's program. Informal parties held by individual living groups were interspersed throughout. Harry Marshard's society orchestra supplied music at Friday's formal. Medleys of dance and show tunes, in style, ranging from waltz tempo to Latin beat to something close to rock and roll, comprised Marshall's varied program.

The Sigma Chi chorus and octet, winners of All-Tech Sing, performed entertainment in interior. The octet sang songs from My Fair Lady, "With a Little Bit of Luck," and "Get Me To The Church On Time," and a spiritual entitled "Chi-land The Mountain." Selections from the chorus included "Round and Round the Rosy Ring," "How Merrily We Live," "Coo Coo Can Cook," and "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

Stratton is Guest
Among the distinguished guests at the ball were Dean and Mrs. John E. Burton, Dr. and Mrs. Julius A. Stratton, and Dean and Mrs. John T. Seile.
Accompanying Jerry Gross-man '61, chairman of the student Centennial Committee, a personal donation from Dr.
Stratton and a grant from the Centennial Committee financed much of the decoration at the ball. A spacious wood dance floor, huge Japanese lanterns, appropriately arranged flags of the nations of the world, a pine tree backdrop for the orchestral column, and 2,000 people adorned the cage.

Saturday morning classes were canceled, but weary socialites found little respite. At 9:30 a.m. living groups turned out to decorate their railroad cars for the Sturbridge trip.

Classes Suspended
At its April 13 meeting, the Committee elected all its subcommittee chairmen for the coming term, with one exception.

Instick mem-
New Instick To Meet Tomorrow
A brand new Institute Committee will meet for the first time as a unit tomorrow evening in Liechfield Lounge at 7:30.

All interested students are invited to attend this meeting of the Committee. At its April 13 meeting, the Committee elected all its subcommittee chairmen for the coming term, with one exception.

Others who have received the

The Cage had a crowded dance floor Friday, as everyone enjoyed the music of Harry Marshard.