Tech Glee Club to Visit Vassar

The club is visiting Vassar for the musical organizations of these schools to present works by Bach, Hindemith, and the contemporary French composer, Poulenc.

The club's trip began last week in preparation for these and five other concerts in which the Glee Club will participate this season. But there is still time for men who enjoy singing, to begin attending. In addition to the three concerts mentioned above, the club will perform in the Combined Musical Clubs concert in October, and will be present and singing for Tech Night at Peps.

The Glee Club is open both to undergraduates and graduate men. Rehearsals take place Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 9 p.m. in Kresge Auditorium. Experience is not a prerequisite for membership - every applicant's membership will be decided on the basis of an audition given by the club. Students interested in learning more about the social and musical aspects of the MIT Glee Club, may call the president of the organization, Mike Kraich, in Burton House, or Professor Klein. Liepmann in 14 N.

The Tech Glee Club is sponsored by the American Federation of Students. Every Friday night there will be a Canteen meeting of the group in the Tech lounge. All members are welcome to attend.
