SAE Upsets TDC
IM Hockey Races Tighten

Intramural hockey teams swung back into action last week with Sigma Alpha Epsilon upsetting Theta Delta Chi and Grad House topping over Theta Chi in a warm-up for its upcoming championship. It now appears that a real title is in the offing for top honors in both leagues.

Grad House should have its hands full if it wins the Feb. 3 game against Figy next Sunday for the league championship. Both teams are unbeaten, to date, and have been strong in each of their outings.

SAE pulled the upset of the year by dumping a strong Theta Delta Chi A 2-0, thus gaining a first place tie with them. Credit for this win goes almost entirely to Joe Kirk '64, who transferred from the University of Colorado and is ineligible for varsity, made over thirty saves against MCTA. This was one of the finest performances ever seen in intramural action.

In the minor league, Lambda Chi Alpha strengthened its lead in league IV by toppling Alpha Epsilon Pi East Campus, 3-2, to remain first in the league. In league V, Burton House took first place away from Tau Epsilon Phi by amassing Phi Rho Theta, 4-2. In another activity, Chi Phi defeated Pi Lambda Phi, and Theta Delta Chi edged AEPi in a close contest.

Meet The Captains
Jed Engler

By Charlie Smith '63

For the first time in its history, a Senior Team will participate in the intramural activities. Engler, 53, went out for the MIT swim team when he was a member of the Theta Delta Chi B squad. He also swam in the CIA yearbook.

Engler, a member of Sigma Chi fraternity, is an avid sports enthusiast who likes to participate in any branch of athletics. In addition to swimming on the MIT team, he was out for crew during his freshman and sophomore years. He feels this interest will remain with him for the years after he has left school.

Our swimming captain has always enjoyed swimming no matter whether he is going around during the summer in active competition. In fact, it was just leisurely swimming which developed Jed's interest, and helped him decide to try out for the MIT squad.

Jed is very enthusiastic about this year's team. He feels that the men and lost record compiled by the team will be no indication of its true talent. Figuring on a better team this year, MIT has scheduled some rougher teams for its dual meets.

He added that the team has a depth of good men swimming in every event; this is a new experience for MIT swim squads. Jed likes it that way because it pushes even the best swimmers to a greater effort. To sum up, Jed says, "I feel that MIT does quite well in swimming when you consider that we only have five in the squad. Teams such as Indiana have won over fifty ['',]."

Engler is looking forward especially to the New England Tournament in March. He was hesitant about MIT'S chance but figures to place in the top two or three.

This tournament is made up of all teams in New England with the exception of Harvard, Dartmouth, and Yale. Brown, he concludes, should have the class to run off with the championship but Springfield and MIT will be close behind.

HI NEIGHBOR

Your bookstore just across the river

Says! Did you have trouble with HUME and KANT? Couldn't find that outside reading on the French Revolution? Search everywhere for Uncle Selby's ABZ? Had to stand in an endless line to get your books?

Well, your friends on this side of the Charles have the benefit of our friendly store with our larger selection and quick service, and our expert advice.

COMPLETE STOCK OF
THE FAMOUS HYMARX
OUTLINE SERIES

including Dante Descartes Hume Homer Thucydides American Literature History of Political Theory Shakespeare Plato

THE BOOKWORM, Inc.

493 Beacon Street

"Just across Harvard Bridge" Boston, Massachusetts

Open Every Night 'til 11 P.M.