The Displaced Person's Almanac

Modern day society seems to be much like the proverbial weather—everybody complains about it, but nobody seems willing to do anything for it. Foremost among today's complainers is John Paran Brown, whose The Displaced Person's Almanac points out all the modern day life and customs.

The lightest feather touch will instantly move the Luxo fluorescent lamp to any desired position, is ideally suited for office and drafting rooms, or any type of work where a large area of concentrated light is required... $20.95

The Guns of August
by Barbara W. Tuchman
MacMillan Press
$6.95

The shock of the opening day in August, 1914, and the thirty days of battle which followed determined the course of the First World War and the shape of nations in our time.

The Guns of August is the subject of The Guns of August, by Barbara W. Tuchman. The German, French, English, and Russian General Staffs had plans for war completed as early as ten years before the war began. None of these plans allowed for the contingencies of the others or recognized their own inability. In the fighting, each General Staff knew what the others would do.

The bloody catalogue of the battles of that August includes the almost mythical names of Liege, Tannenberg, Mons, the Battle of the Frontiers, and Charleroi, each battle signifying careers made or broken, opportunities grasped or missed, individual heroism or personal blindness.

Mrs. Tuchman has made the most of the drama in this struggle. It was a holocaust that led to four bitter years of deadlock war that cost a generation of European lives. It was the human touches, the valor and indiscretion, the sad and stupidities that bring this book of our history to life. And, representing all wars, Mrs. Tuchman has revealed the human reasons for human battle.

The Guns of August
by Barbara W. Tuchman
MacMillan Press
$6.95

THE INTELLIGENTS

"...think of it this way, Gwen, I'm here, and Lord Byron isn't!"

"To lose one's individuality is to lose the meaning of life itself!"

IF YOU'RE AN INTELLECTUAL, be thankful you're living at the right time. The climate of our contemporary culture is sympathetic to new voices, new ideas. The new age of enlightenment explains, among other things, the popularity of Luckies on college campuses. Deduce this yourself: Enlighten up a Lucky. As its heady aroma swirls about you, reflect on this profundity: College students smoke more Luckies than any other regular.

CHANGE TO LUCKIES and get some taste for a change!

Product of The American Tobacco Company — "The one we trust in their middle years."