Cagney Leads Confusion

By Roswicck Wymon, 92*

James Cagney plays a different sort of villain in this abanmos那个 political satire. The same man is West Berlin; the Coca-Cola as West Berlin of which James Cagney is the (stirred,) imperialistic capitalist) boss.

Cagney is busy trying to seduce his secretary (quite har-moneously and basically scho-lonky), and sell Coca-Cola to the (tonsiling subconsciously Marxist)

Communists, and land the big job in London, and put up with his wife (Arlene Francis), and keep tabs on the boss's daughter (Pamela Tiffin) just as from Atlanta, Georgia ("Atlanta is Slovenia with mint juleps"), who of course falls madly love with a misguided East Berliner (Howl, Hackels).

And in the midst of all this infinitely confusion everybody gets out. Communists are accu-plished, and finally, are insulted.

Yankees are insulted. Southern-ners are insulted. Liberals are in-sulted. Conservatives are insulted.

Federico Follist is insulted.

And even the shadows of the Nazi, fall on the best-dressed office staff and are thereby insulted.

All of the ingredients for good comedy are present. The plot starts off thick and soon congeals to a hilarious, hectic mess with seven or eight sub-plots, each of which turns out to be an ideal vehicle for involve. The action accelerates, backed by an appropriate score, dance, into a mad dash dominated by Cagney, snapping out orders with a "One-Two-Three."

Spring Weekend Planned

For May 4, 5, 6: To Have Formal Dance, Parade

Spring weekend, planned for May 4, 5, and 6, will be the first of what is hoped to be an annual event.

Plans for the weekend include a formal dance Friday night, a float parade sponsored by the IFC, Saturday afternoon, an entertainment Saturday night, and Tech Night at the Pops, Sunday afternoon.

The total cost for the weekend is expected to be $10 to $15. Neil Wetherby and Eric Heppen head the committee in charge of planning the weekend.
