By Malcolm C. Beavestock '43 MIT's basketball team made a mid-year trip to Canada and New York State last week.

The team played an exhibition game at Harvard on Tuesday night. The score was 84-66, and the Harvard came back to win the game, 52-49.

The closest game of the week was against the University of Toronto. The score was 81-76, and the MIT team won.

On Thursday, the team played against the University of Minnesota. The score was 74-68, and the MIT team won.

On Friday, the team played against the University of Wisconsin. The score was 72-60, and the MIT team won.

On Saturday, the team played against the University of Illinois. The score was 68-65, and the MIT team won.

The team finished their trip with a game against the University of Michigan on Sunday. The score was 78-62, and the MIT team won.

The team will return to Boston on Monday, and will begin their regular season on Tuesday.

---

Graduate Manager Wins Over 25 In IM Basketball

Graduate Management Society recently conquered the nation by defeating a strong team from the University of Massachusetts, 81-76.

The game was played last Saturday afternoon at the MIT Field House. The Graduate Management Society took the lead early in the game and never relinquished it.

The team was led by their captain, James M. O'Brien, who scored 26 points. Other key players included John A. Smith, who scored 16 points, and William J. Brown, who scored 15 points.

The Graduate Management Society will face the University of Pennsylvania next Saturday, and is expected to win.

---

Cagers Extend Winning Streak To Seven

Bill Bean's jump shots and the long-range shooting of John Harrell kept the Engineers' defensive plan working, as MIT moved closer to a fifth consecutive victory.

The Engineers led 14-12 at the end of the first period, and 28-22 at the end of the second. They increased their lead to 48-30 at the end of the third period, and 60-37 at the end of the fourth.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The Engineers will face the University of Massachusetts next Saturday, and are expected to win.

---

Denny, Levy Star

Icenem Down UConn, 4-1, For Fourth Straight

MIT's hockey team extended their winning streak to four games with a 4-1 victory over the University of Connecticut last week.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The Engineers scored four goals in the first period, and three goals in the second period.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The team will face the University of Maine next weekend, and is expected to win.

---

Wesleyan Saturday

Icenem Down UConn, 4-1, For Fourth Straight

MIT's hockey team extended their winning streak to four games with a 4-1 victory over the University of Connecticut last week.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The Engineers scored four goals in the first period, and three goals in the second period.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The team will face the University of Maine next weekend, and is expected to win.

---

Graduate Manager Wins Over 25 In IM Basketball

Graduate Management Society recently conquered the nation by defeating a strong team from the University of Massachusetts, 81-76.

The game was played last Saturday afternoon at the MIT Field House. The Graduate Management Society took the lead early in the game and never relinquished it.

The team was led by their captain, James M. O'Brien, who scored 26 points. Other key players included John A. Smith, who scored 16 points, and William J. Brown, who scored 15 points.

The Graduate Management Society will face the University of Pennsylvania next Saturday, and is expected to win.

---

Cagers Extend Winning Streak To Seven

Bill Bean's jump shots and the long-range shooting of John Harrell kept the Engineers' defensive plan working, as MIT moved closer to a fifth consecutive victory.

The Engineers led 14-12 at the end of the first period, and 28-22 at the end of the second. They increased their lead to 48-30 at the end of the third period, and 60-37 at the end of the fourth.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The Engineers will face the University of Massachusetts next Saturday, and are expected to win.

---

Denny, Levy Star

Icenem Down UConn, 4-1, For Fourth Straight

MIT's hockey team extended their winning streak to four games with a 4-1 victory over the University of Connecticut last week.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The Engineers scored four goals in the first period, and three goals in the second period.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The team will face the University of Maine next weekend, and is expected to win.

---

Wesleyan Saturday

Icenem Down UConn, 4-1, For Fourth Straight

MIT's hockey team extended their winning streak to four games with a 4-1 victory over the University of Connecticut last week.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The Engineers scored four goals in the first period, and three goals in the second period.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The team will face the University of Maine next weekend, and is expected to win.

---

Graduate Manager Wins Over 25 In IM Basketball

Graduate Management Society recently conquered the nation by defeating a strong team from the University of Massachusetts, 81-76.

The game was played last Saturday afternoon at the MIT Field House. The Graduate Management Society took the lead early in the game and never relinquished it.

The team was led by their captain, James M. O'Brien, who scored 26 points. Other key players included John A. Smith, who scored 16 points, and William J. Brown, who scored 15 points.

The Graduate Management Society will face the University of Pennsylvania next Saturday, and is expected to win.

---

Cagers Extend Winning Streak To Seven

Bill Bean's jump shots and the long-range shooting of John Harrell kept the Engineers' defensive plan working, as MIT moved closer to a fifth consecutive victory.

The Engineers led 14-12 at the end of the first period, and 28-22 at the end of the second. They increased their lead to 48-30 at the end of the third period, and 60-37 at the end of the fourth.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The Engineers will face the University of Massachusetts next Saturday, and are expected to win.

---

Denny, Levy Star

Icenem Down UConn, 4-1, For Fourth Straight

MIT's hockey team extended their winning streak to four games with a 4-1 victory over the University of Connecticut last week.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The Engineers scored four goals in the first period, and three goals in the second period.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The team will face the University of Maine next weekend, and is expected to win.

---

Wesleyan Saturday

Icenem Down UConn, 4-1, For Fourth Straight

MIT's hockey team extended their winning streak to four games with a 4-1 victory over the University of Connecticut last week.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The Engineers scored four goals in the first period, and three goals in the second period.

The game was played in the MIT Field House, and was attended by a packed crowd.

The team will face the University of Maine next weekend, and is expected to win.

---

Graduate Manager Wins Over 25 In IM Basketball

Graduate Management Society recently conquered the nation by defeating a strong team from the University of Massachusetts, 81-76.

The game was played last Saturday afternoon at the MIT Field House. The Graduate Management Society took the lead early in the game and never relinquished it.

The team was led by their captain, James M. O'Brien, who scored 26 points. Other key players included John A. Smith, who scored 16 points, and William J. Brown, who scored 15 points.

The Graduate Management Society will face the University of Pennsylvania next Saturday, and is expected to win.

---