Brilliant playmaking by Cyril John Rupert '62, combined with the sharpshooting of Mike Denison '62, gave the Tech team the 1427-1292 victory over Wesleyan. The Engineers showed strength and experience in all weight classes, as they cruised the opposition by a score of 25-5-1 in the 130-pound class, when Don Topkis, 64, failed to make the Engineers' minimum weight in his class.

Jim Evans, 63, extended his winning streak to eight in a row by posting his opponent in the final minute of the match. Evans is in the 140-pound class.

Kim Shaf, 64, Tech heavyweight, continued his streak with a 297-0 victory, leading the defeated Ted Rice on a decision. Terry Chatwin, 63, pinned his man in six minutes in the 134-pound class with a gallant effort. Jim Haimman, 63, took T. J. Carnes '63 off the mat with a decision in the 127, 167, and 198-pound classes respectively.

The Engineers face Wesleyan tomorrow afternoon in Philadelphia. After that, the grapplers will play at 3:30 p.m. in Rockefeller Cage. The Engineers will meet these schools the next week.

The Engineers' last two victories came in the 200-yard dash and the 300-meter hurdles. Tech swimmers finished first and second in each of these events.

Prior to the victory celebration in Philadelphia, the Tech swimming team broke even at 1-1-1 on a nail-biting interconference, by the Engineers against Fordham College in New York City, last week. The Engineers won in the last three years, for the Techmen, the win with New York University, and the loss came at the hands of 23-8, 27-7, 3-6 at Penn State in Philadelphia.

The highlight of the trip was the meet with Harvard. Coach McCalmont of Corn Ising lowered the world record in this event, swam to an easy victory in the 200; while Bill Bails '64 took first place in the 200-yard medley relay. Trinity was victorious in the 100-yard freestyle, 200-yard freestyle, and 400-yard medley relay.

The Engineers again showed their superiority in the 220-yard freestyle. Captain Jed Engler took an early lead and remained in front over the entire length of the pool.

Tech's natators dropped the 50-yard freestyle but came back with a pair of victories in the 200-yard individual medley and diving events. Tom Iams took both of these events.

The Engineers' 200-yard medley relay, won by a decision for its 4th straight victory.

Tech Swimmers Swamp Trinity, 58-37

By Ronald Davies '63

M.I.T.'s swimming team downed Trinity last Saturday for another victory. The Engineers took six of eleven events, winning by the final score of 58-37. Outstanding performances were turned in by Tim Shaf '63, winning the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 1:20.60, and by Lawrence Stanczyk '63, who came from behind to win the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:34.00.

In the opening event, M.I.T. stepped off to a fast start in the 100-yard medley relay. The team of Slocum, Stanczyk, Shaf and Spearman '63, was first home in the time of 4:08.7 to win this event by a wide margin.
