A few of the 4500 students who came to Washington Saturday maintain an orderly picket line near the White House. Photo by Alan Schwartz

A. A. To Elect Officers Next Week

The annual MIT Athletic Association election meeting will be Tuesday, February 27 at 7:30 in the fencing room, DePauw Athletic Center. The officers to be elected at that time are President, Varsity Vice-President, Intramural Vice-President and Recorder.

These officers will be not only responsible for the operation of the AA, but will also be the student representatives to the Athletic Board. Nominations for these offices will be accepted at the Athletic Association Office in DePauw any time before the meeting.

Previous interest in joining the Athletic Association by being an assistant varsity or intramural manager for the spring sports should also apply at the AA Office. Currently, there are several positions open which offer students excellent opportunities for administrative and financial experience.

The chance to confront and influence Congressmen, Federally-appointed foreign ambassadors, and others who might benefit from the spirit of challenge and cooperation which pervaded the walk.

The new DKW has the world's first automatic oil injection system and is built to Mercedes-Benz standards of quality and engineering. An interesting brochure is available. Price is $1595 POE, New York.

THE ONLY SHELTER IN PEACE

PHOTOGRAPHED AT MOUNT STRATTON, VT.

DOING IT THE HARD WAY by haff (GETTING RID OF DANDRUFF, THAT IS!)

A specific follow-up activity was announced during the Saturday rally; pretentiously, a day should be designated during the spring on which as many community and community peace groups as possible will demonstrate in their own localities, with the emphasis on individual projects to be coordinated nationally.