SCEP Supports Suggestion For Speed Reading Course

The Student Committee on Educational Policy discussed speed reading, freshman feedback, and educational creativity at its last meeting. SCEP suggested that a course in speed reading be given, starting next year. SCEP feels that the student body supports this idea, and that financial considerations seem to be the only thing holding it back.

In a few weeks, a fraternity feedback system will be put in effect in a limited number of sections. The freshmen will have the opportunity to comment on their lecturers. This program is part of the one operative in Course VI.

SCEP is considering an analysis of the attitudes of the Tech student. A questionnaire is being planned which will try to find the relation between MIT and student creativity. The questionnaire should be out this term.

Rabbi E. Berger To Speak About Judaism, Zionism

Rabbi Eizer Berger, executive vice-president of the American Council for Judaism, will lecture on "American Judaism or Zionism?" Monday at 5 p.m. in the Little Theatre, Keough Auditorium. The public is invited to the lecture, sponsored by the Arab Club.

A writer and lecturer, Rabbi Berger has contributed largely to the question of the integration of the Jew within the American society. In his book, Judaism or Jewish Nationalism: The Alternative to Zionism, Rabbi Berger discussed the two drives that Jewish society in the US experiences nowadays.

Stratton And Deans Will Discuss Courses

Course selection will be discussed by President Julius Stratton and the academic Deans in Kroeger Auditorium, March 26, at 8 p.m. It is the first in a series of activities planned by the Freshman Advisory Council to assist undecided freshmen and sophomores.

Students are required to enroll in a course by the end of the sophomore year.

Those scheduled to speak are Dean Howard Johnman of Industrial Management, Dean George Harrison of Science, Dr. H. Guyton Stever of Engineering, Dean Peter Belluschi of Architecture and City Planning, and Dean John Barchard of Humanities, and Social Science.

Professor Nathan Cook will explain the procedures involved in registration for a course.
