Bowman's Programs Developing: Six Will Go To Yale Meeting

Six MIT students will be sent to Yale University's colloquium on "The Civil Seafront." The program will include a debate between Norman Thomas and Future League III, and Max Lerner and Sen. Edward L. Bartlett of Alaska will be speakers, as well as informal discussions.

The conference will be held April 11-13. The Institute Committee will select six students who will represent MIT and then report back to奈曼 on the conference. Students who would like to participate should contact Miss Hendrickson at Litchfield Lounge.

Undergraduate Association President Woody Bowman '63 announced the students going to this program at Yale will be the first in奈曼's expanding program of inter-collegiate conferences.
