Varsity Cindermen Place Second In Triangular Meet With UNH, Tufts

The first regattas of the intramural sailing season were held on Tuesday evening April 25 with only two teams returning from the 63 competition. At the end of the season competition, the returning teams were:

1. Phi Gamma Delta
2. Delta Chi
3. Sigma Alpha Epsilon
4. Gamma House
5. Phi Delta Theta
6. Baker House

At the end of the three races last Wednesday, it appeared as though the Cindermen would come in third. But in the Greenly meet, the Cindermen showed surprising all around strength and were leading the field with only five events left.

Tom Goddard, '63, was an easy winner in the sole and was back to the field in the afternoon to place second in the half with a fine time of 2:05.2. Barry Demetriou, '63, took an early lead and ran away from the field to win the 410 yard dash in 58.6. The other Tech first in the running events was a fine showing by Forrest Green, '65, in the 110 low hurdles.

The Cindermen took the team title as he placed fifth with 4:48. Big point gatherers for the frosh were Bill Eagleson, '64, who captured six points in three field events with a second, third, and fourth; and Mike Oliver, '64, who was in a tie for first in the pole vault along with Mike Keehner, '65.

The freshmen took their elimination races for the New England Championship in another turn at the Coast Guard.

MIT Varsity Sailors Place 3rd Out Of 12

MIT's varsity sailing team placed third out of twelve teams in the Boston Dinghy Club Cup competition, held here Saturday and Sunday. Harvard won with 251 points, Coast Guard took second with 233, and MIT came in third with 233, Ken Klarer, '63, and Mike Lifschitz, '63, were in contention until the last race. The freshmen took their elimination races for the New England Championship in another turn at the Coast Guard.

In other intercollegiate activities, the Intramural Council recently elected managers for the winter sports.

They are: Bob Wells, '65, (Wrestling Mgr.); Bill Brody, '65, (Swimming Mgr.); and Dick Seidler, '65, (Hockey Mgr.).

In addition to these three, the winter intramural schedule includes basketball, bowling, badminton, and volleyball. Fall IM sports are touch football, tennis, and sailing.

As a point of information, MIT is one of the few colleges where the intramural program is run completely by the students.

Varsity Schedule Heavy

But this flurry of Intramural action will slow down the regular intercollegiate varsity schedule. The next major varsity sports, six are spring sports, and Saturday, squads in all six of these intercollegiate sports will compete in contests both at home and away.

By far, the biggest sporting event of the weekend was the All-Crew Day, from 10:30, to 6:00 p.m., thirteen races, including ten Tech contests, will take place on the Charles River. MIT lightweight crews meet Harvard and Dartmouth starting at 2:30. From 4 to 6 p.m., the Heavyweights encounter Yale soon. Fresh from their spectacular ten race sweep of the previous week, the Engineers will be out to better brace the Big Cup.

The Varsity baseball team, currently holding a 2-6 record, meets Middlebury College at the opponent's field. Meanwhile, the Fresh Nine faces Harvard again this evening on the Charles Field at 2:00 p.m.

In other varsity action, the Lacrosse team faces Amherst - away - the Golf team faces Colby College at home course, the Track Team has a dual meet with Bowdoin, away; and the Tennis Team, currently on a three-game winning streak, faces Amherst.
