As IM Squash Teams Enter Final Rounds

With better than half of the IM squash season completed, a number of teams have emerged as definite leaders. In a few weeks the top two squads from each of the three six-team leagues will compete in the finals.

Dekes, Baker Lead

In League I action, Delta Kappa Epsilon and Baker House have won every one of their respective matches (3-0) and are swamping all competition.

East Campus 'A' and Zeta Beta Tau seem to be emerging as League II leaders over the stubborn resistance of Alpha Epsilon Pi.

Due to a number of unreported scores, the standings in league III are uncertain. However, Theta Delta Chi, seasoned from last year's campaign should not have too much trouble in subduing competition.

for the victory by keeping Holy Cross scoreless in the last three minutes.

The game was by far the best offensive show of the year for Tech with Matson displaying his tremendous potential by blasting in six goals, Robinson scored two, while Prussing, Greg Brown, '62, Stu Solin, '64, and Don Yansen, '63, all contributed single tallies.

Engineers Fall To UNH

The tables were turned Saturday as UNH jumped off to a 3-0 lead at the half before the

A very daring photographer and crew, a real gone model, and a wonderfully cooperative steamship line, teamed up with a happy band of friends and associates who volunteered guitars, typewriters, records, books, bicycles, an old steamer trunk and a complete skin diving rig — all very essential to a summer abroad — made the cover of this issue possible. Purpose: to capture the spirit of the new Paperback Review, featuring records, music and travel, as well as a wide assortment of treats for the enthusiastic college reader. The photographer: Bruce Elkus and his band of lensmen. The steamship line: United States Lines, the crew of the S.S. America.

Contents

RECOGNITION OF RED CHINA? ..... by C. S. Jha
C. S. JHA is India's Ambassador to the United Nations. The emergence and increasing strength of the Red Chinese government is the most eventful and fateful "fait accompli" of our generation.

TOYNBEE: PROPHET RATHER THAN HISTORIAN ..... by J. H. Plumb
"Few more subjective books have been written... and certainly none which made such a parade of being objective and scientific."
J. H. Plumb is a Fellow of Christ's College, Cambridge, England, and the author of England in the Eighteenth Century in the Pelican History of England series.

TODAY'S WRITING: ART OR SEANCE? ..... by Alan Levy
In publishing circles it is considered naive not to believe in ghosts. Three out of every four books of memoirs, autobiography, or first-person adventure stories are written with the help of professional ghostwriters. Alan Levy is the author of Wanted: Nazi Criminals at Large and numerous other books under other people's names.

ELIOT ONCE AND FOR ALL .....
by Karl Shapiro
"It is the only book which pulls Eliot up by the roots and shows us what the reading public never sees: the medieval tangle of religious fanaticism, scholastic dogma, rulership politics, and Culture."
Karl Shapiro is a distinguished American poet and critic.

SUCCESSORS TO SHAKESPEARE... OR IMPOSTERS ..... by William F. Rothwell, Jr.
No matter what, one must acknowledge the excitement and provocation which the plays of Beckett and Genet have brought to the theatre.
William F. Rothwell, Jr., teaches in the Drama Department at Vassar College.

THE PLOW AND THE HARP ..... by Skip Weshner, Jr.
Being Part I of a casual ramble through the recorded domain of The Folk.
Skip Weshner, Jr. is one of FM's (WNCR) most popular music commentators.

AN EXPERIENCE IN SHARING .....
An intimate close up of the Clancy Brothers & Tommy Makem, perhaps the folk world's most colorful group.

AVOIDING THE SHEEPISH FEELING ..... by Hermione Onthegoe
There are lots of ways of going abroad, but the solo flight is fit for collegians.

EXPLANATION IN SCIENCE ..... by Martin Lean
Three attempts to make clear the underlying logic of the scientific method.
Martin Lean teaches philosophy at Brooklyn College. Trained as a physicist before he became a philosopher, he retains a special interest in the philosophy of science.

BOY, SICK. GIRL, SICK. .....
by John A. Kingsland
"In Felfler, it is the people who are sick, not the jokes...!"
John A. Kingsland taught at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute before successfully going into Wall Street.

BOURGEOIS REPUBLIC VERSUS SLAVE OLIGARCHY ..... by Earl Schenck Miers
Karl Marx and Frederick Engels attempt to "disclose the limitations inherent in the liberal bourgeois approach to the Civil War."
Earl Schenck Miers is the author of some forty books, many of them on the Civil War, including The Great Rebellion and The Living Lincoln.
