To see Scripto's brand new idea in pens push here

Is tilted. That's the point. You don't have to tilt your pen to hold it upright like other ball pens. The new Tilt-Tip pen combines the convenience of a ball pen with the writing ease of a fine point pen. Hold it naturally and write to your hand's content.

Available in some colors. The Tilt-Tip* pen only by Scripto.

Available at your college bookstore.

Mr. Maryon will also explain the decorative technique used on Etruscan gold jewelry, known as "granulation," in which innumerable spheres of gold were invisibly soldered onto the surface in patterns designed to catch light.

Above: Parents get a slight taste of what we go through every registration day. 1480 parents of MIT students signed in for a weekend of touring and sightseeing of the campus. The Freshman Co-ordinating Committee of Institute Committee sponsored the event.

Right: As part of the Parents' Weekend schedule of lectures, Professor Harold E. Edgerton, of the Department of Electrical Engineering, demonstrates a sonar transducer on which he has been working recently.
