People spend their summer vacations in a number of ways. One of the most popular is just to get into a car and tour the country. This is the way a couple from Reed College in Oregon decided to spend her summer, and they went in a similar situation, she simply had to collect some snow. She was passing through Putney, Vermont, when she happened to stop just the thing she needed to decorate her dormitory room. So she opened the trunk of her car and studied the contents away.

Everything went fine until she got to Scituate, Rhode Island. There she had the misfortune to be stopped by the state police for a routine check. Naturally she was asked to open the trunk...
