DOING IT THE HARD WAY by hacc

(GETTING RID OF DANDRUFF, THAT IS)

As many Tech men have noted, last weekend was a great time for mixers. Logically, they shouldn't be expecting much this week and, naturally enough, they are not getting much.

The only mixer I have for this week is one at Wheaton College in Norton, Mass. It should be a very worthwhile affair, with guaranteed attendance by Wheaton's student body as well as many freshmen. It's being held in Plimpton Hall with a $3 admittance charge, and a rock 'n' roll band will provide music. NOTE: It doesn't start until 9 p.m.

Saturday night is usually vacant with almost nothing on the agenda. And there's a correction on that Senior House affair: it's open only to residents of Sr. House. (Not enough Wellesley girls for the whole campus.)

This is all in, but I could not get through to some of them in time, so check your bulletin boards and social calendars. They may be receiving notices during the week.

The following weekend, October 19 and 20, will probably see resumed activity in the mixer field. Grinnell will hold a mixer Friday night in Martian Hall, and the same night will see in-sexual mixers at both Town and Charles Eliot, B.U. Other mixers, including the net E. Richards House and Brook Hall, are also planning mixers and open houses in the near future. I'll give you more details in the next few weeks.
