Admissions Discussed
Report Notes Housing Needs

Debate Society Enters Competitions During Vacations

The MIT Debate Society competed at the University of Miami on February 12, 1965, winning first in the elimination rounds and second in the semifinals.

The team of Glen Hooks '63 and Bill Morris '64 scored a perfect 40 out of the 50 in the preliminaries, advancing to the semifinals. The team of Stan Weiser '64 and William Wood '63 finished with a 35-2 record.

They defeated the University of Vermont but lost to Boston College, finishing third in the tournament. Over 30 colleges and 150 students from across the United States were represented.

During the first two weeks of the second term the Society will hold its practices in Cambridge and at Dartmouth. This year's debate topic is "Whether that the nonCommunist nations of the world should establish an economic community."

Former Faculty Member Falls 16 Stories To Death

Dr. Frank B. Cuff Jr., a metallurgist and assistant professor at MIT until 1959, died Tuesday, February 15, in a fall from a 15-story building in Westminster, Wash.

According to police reports, a man unidentified by the police fell from the seventh floor, broke through the window, and hit the asphalt averages and geographic dis- cussions for admission to the fresh- or week-end events."

who would like to schedule evening ability to accommodate all those the past reacted favorably to new important single ton.

United States were represented. Bill Morris '64 scored a perfect and third in the tournament. They beat St. John's, Kent Forest, and Florida. Georgetown, Tennessee, Wake

Too Many Theorists?
Prof. George R. Harrison, Dean of the School of Science, also dis- cussed that "some insistence that professors students,1961 1962 1961 1962

Applications Falling
Admissions policy also came under the report. The number of completed applica- tions for admission to the fresh- man class dropped off significantly for the second successive year, reported Director of Admissions Robert B. Blaugrund.

The decrease in applications has qualitative factors such as school- work quality and the economic situation "are holding up well enough so there is no need for im-

Research Sponsorship
Practically all research at MIT is sponsored by outside organi-

"Research Important
President Stratton: "Need Sweeping Renewal Of Experimental Facilities"

By Joseph Hanlon
We are faced with the need for a sweeping renewal and de- velopment of our experimental facili-

"The laboratory takes on new impor- tance," said Stratton, for it is "the un-

Truck Collides With Tree

Weiss, 76, a member of the faculty that these dangers are likely to continue. On the other hand, Prof. George R. Harrison, Dean of the School of Science, wrote that a more "discrete" and "noteworthy" trend of the past year is the "apparent increase in cooperative effort among universities in various scientific disciplines."

The MIT Debate Society com- peted at the University of Miami on February 12, 1965, winning first in the elimination rounds and second in the semifinals.

The team of Glen Hooks '63 and Bill Morris '64 scored a perfect 40 out of the 50 in the preliminaries, advancing to the semifinals. The team of Stan Weiser '64 and William Wood '63 finished with a 35-2 record.

They defeated the University of Vermont but lost to Boston College, finishing third in the tournament. Over 30 colleges and 150 students from across the United States were represented.

During the first two weeks of the second term the Society will hold its practices in Cambridge and at Dartmouth. This year's debate topic is "Whether that the non- Communist nations of the world should establish an economic community."

Former Faculty Member Falls 16 Stories To Death

Dr. Frank B. Cuff Jr., a metal- lurgist and assistant professor at MIT until 1959, died Tuesday, February 15, in a fall from a 15-story building in Westminster, Wash.

According to police reports, a man unidentified by the police fell from the seventh floor, broke through the window, and hit the