MIT lacross squad downed three times by Long Island teams during spring recess

MIT's lacrosse squad dropped three games on its spring trip. The Techmen fell to Hofstra 5-3, C. W. Post 12-11 and Adelphi 6-4.

Hofstra Edges MIT

In the Hofstra game Wayne Matson '65 scored Tech's first goal after 45 seconds of play. By the end of the first period, the score was tied 1-1 and by the end of the first half Hofstra was ahead 3-1. Mike Monsler '65 and John Lamberti '63 scored the remaining two goals for the MIT squad while the Hofstra ten also scored twice to win 5-3.

Tech Leads At Half

C.W. Post jumped to a first period 4-2 lead in Tech's second game. The two Tech goals were scored by Bill Dreiss '65 and Matson. However, by the end of the half the Engineers had gone on to capture a two-point lead, making the score 7-5. The score continued to seesaw until C.W. Post scored the final goal with 20 seconds left to win by a 12-11 score.

Adelphi Wins

The third game was played against Adelphi College. The MIT squad recorded the first goal after four minutes and fifteen seconds. The Adelphi team netted four goals in the first period and went on to win 6-4.

Netmen have 3-2 record in South

The MIT tennis team returned from its annual spring trip with a three wins-two loss record. The team lost its opener 9-0 to the University of Virginia at Charlottesville. The match scheduled with the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (Tuesday the 26th) was rained out. The team posted its first victory Wednesday, 7-2 over North Carolina State College in Raleigh. Victories were recorded at both Davidson College 8-1 and Wake Forest 7-2, and the trip ended with a 6-3 loss to the University of Maryland.

Virginia Shuts Out MIT

The Techmen met stiff competition at Charlottesville in their first match competition of the season. The University of Virginia capitalized on their own fine play and MIT's mistakes for an easy shutout victory.

Beavers Beat Wolfpack

After a day's respite (rain at North Carolina), the team followed the initial victory of Captain Bent Aasnaes '64, and turned back the Wolfpack of North Carolina State. Easy victories were recorded by Aasnaes (6-3, 6-1) and by Terry Chatwin '63 (6-2, 6-1). The only loss in a singles match was sustained by Marty Ormond '64 1-6, 7-5, 6-4. Ormond is recuperating from recent surgery.

MIT 8, Davidson 1

At Davidson conditions were ideal for tennis, and the team responded with an impressively strong performance, winning 8-1. The only loss was sustained by Mike Long at number six singles. The closest contest was played by Marty Ormond who came back from a 5-1 deficit in the first set to win 8-6, 6-2.

Aasnaes, Chatwin Stage Comeback

Losses at number two singles and number two doubles were the only blots on the MIT slate at Wake Forest. Strong comebacks were staged by Bent Aasnaes and Terry Chatwin. Aasnaes' scores were 4-6, 6-3, 7-5. Chatwin's were 4-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Maryland Sweeps Singles

MIT won all three doubles matches at the University of Maryland, but these victories came after Maryland had swept all sinx singles contests to clinch the meet. Tech's outstanding singles performance was turned in by Marty Ormond, who lost in three sets, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4.

The next match will be played at Brandeis April 4. The netmen meet Williams in their first home contest Saturday, April 13 at 2:00 pm.

Tech nine top Penn Military, lose three

MIT's baseball team scored one win and three losses during spring vacation. The Techmen defeated Penn Military College in Chester, Pa. 3-2. The losses came at the hands of Towson State Teacher's College in Baltimore, Md., Howard University in Washington, D. C., and Stevens Tech in Hoboken, N. J. The scores in those games were 1-0, 5-2, and 3-2, respectively.

Towson Shuts Out MIT

Tech lost their first game to Towson on an unearned run by a score of 1-0. Towson's score came in the eighth inning. The winning run was put on base when pitcher Bob Yanus '64 hit the batter with a pitched ball. On the next play Towson's right fielder hit a deep single to right field sending the runner to third base. The throw from right field got past catcher Dennis Hinrichs '64 and rolled into the MIT bench. The ball was declared dead and the runner was waved home for the winning score.

Yanus struck out 13 players while going the entire distance for Tech. Towson used three pitchers in the game.

Howard Wins 5-2

Howard University outscored MIT 5-2 Thursday, March 28. Tech led 3-0 after 4½ innings on runs by Don Alusic '64 and Dennis Hinrichs '64. Alusic scored in the second inning on a passed ball. Captain Dave Sikes '63 batted Hinrichs in with a double to center field in the fifth.

Howard scored three unearned runs in the fifth and sixth innings on a combination of four MIT errors and three Howard singles. Their last two runs came in the eighth inning. The first on a triple and a sacrifice fly, and the final tally on a home run by pitcher Joe Phillips.

The winning pitcher was Phillips who walked one and struck out two. The losing pitcher was Henry Nau '63 who walked two and struck out seven.

Branson Pitches One-Hitter

MIT registered its first win of the season, defeating Penn Military 3-2 on Friday, March 29.

Pitcher Harold Branson '63 struck out 16 batsmen while going the entire nine innings and giving up only one hit. Leftfielder Dave Dunford '63 hit four for four with two singles, a double, and a triple, and knocked in all three of MIT's runs. Tech's first run came in the second inning on singles by Don Alusic '64 and Kent Groninger '63, and a double by Dunford. Tech's other two runs came in the eighth inning when Alusic walked, and went to third on another Groninger single. Groninger went to second on a fielder's choice, and Dunford hit both runners home with a single to left field. Penn's two runs came in the fourth inning on a combination of three bases on balls and two MIT errors.

Rally Falls Short Against Stevens

A ninth inning rally fell short and Tech dropped a 3-2 decision to Stevens Tech on Saturday, March 30.

Stevens got two quick runs in the first inning on a base on balls, a single, and two fielder's choices. They scored their third run in the eighth when the Stevens center fielder walked, went to third on an overthrow pickoff attempt by pitcher Bob Yanus and scored on a wild pitch.

Larry Demick '63 led off the 9th inning for Tech with a single. After Alusic flied to right, Groninger singled to put men on first and second. Lennie Ferrari '63 hit a ball to the third baseman, who overthrew second sending Alusic in to score and Groninger to third. Dunford hit another ball to the third sacker who again threw past second sending Groninger in to score. But MIT, with men on first and second, one out, and down by one run, was unable to score again in the inning.

The winning pitcher was Don Williams who struck out seven and walked two. The losing pitcher, Yanus, struck out 13 and walked five.

Two members of the team were injured on the trip. Jim Bauman '65 was hit in the head with a pitched ball in a practice game with Towson. Robert Schaefer '65 was hospitalized in Chester, Pa. with a bad foot infection. Both players will probably be out of action for a week or two.

The team travels to Hartford, Conn. this Wednesday, April 3 for a game with Trinity College. The first home game is this Saturday, April 6, against Wesleyan University. Game time is 2:30 p.m. on Briggs field.

Sailboat racer Clark to talk next Tuesday on catamaran yachts

William Clark, former professor of Industrial Management and a prominent figure in ocean racing, will lecture on catamaran yachts at a Naval Architecture seminar April 9 at 4:00 pm in room 3-370.

Last summer Clark won the Buzzards Bay elimination series in 300 class catamarans, and then traveled to England to sail in a match race series against the British champion. Clark was able to register only one victory in England, when a strong breeze disabled his British opponent.

Clark's boat, The Beverly, came in first in a field of 25 catamarans in international competition in Florida this past winter. Eric Olsen, a former MIT olympian, finished 3rd in a new boat Tremilio. Eric had won the previous two races of this kind, the first (1956) in a 5-05 class boat, and the second (1959) in a catamaran, The Tiger Cat.

Moving pictures and slides which were taken last summer in England and in Florida this past winter will be shown during the lecture.

Grad Managers second

Mediterrannee wins volley tourney

Club Mediterrannee won the intramural volleyball championship on March 20 by beating Graduate Management Society, for its sixth straight victory in the 32-team, double elimination tournament.

Previous to this the Club had already beaten Graduate Management in the quarter-finals. In another quarter-final contest, Sigma Alpha Epsilon defeated Electronic Systems Laboratory. Then, in the next round, Club Mediterranee proceeded to edge SAE, coming from behind, 14-16, 15-13, 15-11. SAE was eliminated by Grad Management, 15-4, 6-15, 15-13 in another close battle.

In the final contest, and throughout the season, "the Greeks" (Club Mediterrannee) were distinguishable by their strict, European style of play.

The final match was won by a comparatively decisive margin, 15-11, 15-11. Although Grad Management had good setting and powerful spiking throughout the tournament, Club Mediterrannee countered this with an agile defense, plus spiking by even the shorter members of the team.

Final Standings

1. Club Mediterrannee
2. Graduate Management Society
3. Sigma Alpha Epsilon
4. Electronic Systems Lab
5. Chinese Students, Lambda Chi Alpha
7. Grad House A, Sigma Phi Epsilon
9. Zeta Beta Tau, Beta Theta Pi Alpha Tau Omega, Burton A

Eagleson, Moter chosen to lead Tech hoopmen

Bill Eagleson, 6-5 center from Washington, D.C. and Jack Moter, 6-5 forward from Reading, Pennsylvania were recently elected co-captains for the 1963-64 Tech basketball team.

Eagleson, the leading scorer (17.3 average) and rebounder for MIT during the past season, was the third leading scorer in the Greater Boston scoring race. Moter's 11.2 scoring average this past season was second only to Eagleson on the Tech varsity.

Racquetmen choose Cruise captain for next season

Ted Cruise '64 was chosen captain of next year's squash team. Cruise was ranked second on the team this year.

Golfers defeat Old Dominion, Howard on spring trip

MIT's golf team started the season with three wins and two losses on its spring vacation trip. The Techmen defeated Old Dominion twice, 7-0 and 4½-2½, and Howard University, 20-1. They were downed by the University of Maryland, 23-1, and the University of Virginia, 14-7.

In the first match of the trip, the golfers faced the University of Maryland. Roy Carver '65 (79), and Neil Hull '63 (83) managed to get a half a point apiece for Tech's scoring, while Peter Lubitz '65, Bill Lakin '64, Bill Graham '64, Mike Finson '63, Emilio Sardi '64, and John Eck '64 were scoreless. Maryland, with most of its scores in the 70's, rolled to an easy win.

Techmen Win Twice

The Engineers next scored two victories over Old Dominion. In the first match, Lubitz was low man for Tech with a 78. Right behind him came Lakin, Hull, Graham, Carver, Finson, and Sardi with 79, 83, 85, 86, 87, and 89 respectively. Tech won this match by 7-0.

The second contest was not decided until Lubitz defeated his opponent in an overtime match for the 4½-2½ Tech victory. Bill Lakin was low man for Tech with a 76 while Hull, Lubitz and Graham finished with 78's. Finson, Hull and Graham also won their matches, Carver tied his, and Lakin and Eck lost theirs.

Lakin Scores 71

MIT then fell, 14-7, to University of Virginia. Bill Lakin was again low man for Tech, carding an excellent one-over-par 71. This was the best round of golf played by either a Techman or an opponent during the trip. Lakin won his match 3-0, Sardi (79) won his 2-0, while Lubitz (79), Tull (79), Carver (82), and Finson (85) all lost theirs ½-2½, and Graham lost his match 0-3.

Engineers Romp Over Howard

In the final contest of the trip, the golfers easily defeated Howard University 20-1 in a five-man match. Finson and Lubitz were low with 80's, with Graham (81), Lakin (83), and Carver (88) right behind. Lubitz and Lakin won 9-0, Graham and Carver won 8-1, and Finson scored the remaining points, winning 3-0.

The Engineers meet Tufts in their first home match April 15 at the Oakley Country Club.
