Tech’s scoring column. Captain Mike Piers with a 27-3 win on December 3 at a strong Harvard squad featuring Williams ‘64 at 157 pounds.

Although most of the Harvard matches were close, there were only a few bright spots in the Tech score column. Captain Williams ‘64 at 157 pounds received MTI’s only win with a 9-7 decision, while 133-pound Tim McAsley ’67 and 177-pounder Bob Wallis ’66 both scored draws. It was quite a different story at UConn three days later, however, with the Engineers losing only one match during the meet. Heavyweight Kim Stall ’64 took top honors with a pin in 1:49, while 177-pound Ed Frederickson ’65 needed only 6:52 to register a pin.

Decisions were scored by McAsley, 33-6; Ed Frederickson ’65, 6-0; Tim McAsley, 133-1; and C. 1:49-pound White Miller Whitley ’88, 7-6; Williams by IJ, and 187-pound Lew Jackson ’65, 5-0.

The Tech score, although not winning, was encouraging, since it was 14 points high. This last was a strong top of 135, and much better than last year’s average of 1257. Ray Rough , and Dave Root ’65 split six scores between 273 and 274 respectively. Pete Koele ’66 was high man of all teams with a match total of 281. 300.

The team has been shooting in the Greater Boston Pistol League on Mondays. At this point five matches have been fired and the MIT students have won four and lost only one.
