Motherwell Paintings At Hayden Library

An exhibition of paintings and collages by Robert Motherwell will be on view through March 3 in the New Gallery, Hayden Library.

A member of a group known as the Abstract-Expressionists, Motherwell paints with few colors, often only black and white. He has traveled in Mexico, India, France and Germany, and many of his paintings are landscape, real and imaginary, of those countries.

Serkin To Give Symphony Hall Concert Feb. 17

Rudolf Serkin will give a concert February 17, in Symphony Hall, at 8:30 p.m. The recital is sponsored by the South End Music Centre, whose student aid fund will receive the benefits from the event.

The program will include Beethoven's Sonata in C major and Sonatas in E major, and Schubert's Fantasy in C major, and two Impromptus from opus 142.
