Seven entertainments and a 60-mile train trip to northern New Hampshire will be included in the program for MFT Spring 1967, to be held April 17-20.

The weekend will commence Friday evening with a trip to Bradfield, Maud Ferguson and her orchestra performing a semi-formal show, and a special appearance by the Lassors (trio) of Branford.

Saturday morning, the group will breakfast in a local restaurant, and afterwards proceed to the Nassau Lakes area where they will spend the afternoon walking and looking at the lake.

Saturday night the group will return to Burlington and spend the evening at the Hotel North. On Sunday morning the group will breakfast at the hotel, and then proceed to the Lake Champlain area where they will spend the afternoon walking and looking at the lake.

Spring Weekend coming

By Bill Bird

Staff members of The Tech interviewed the three declared candidates for Undergraduate Association President in a two-hour private conference. Sunday evening, before initial opening statements by the contenders, representatives of The Tech informed the candidates of the importance of the interview.

Bobk’s views

Arthur Bushkin ’65, speaking first, emphasized the need for solutions of the problems currently facing the student body. Specifically, he felt that--

Students should have been in- formed of the findings of the Committee on Student Environment regarding the housing level. The last four social weekends were unenlightened--

The Student Center Committee would be formed of the findings of the Committee on Student Environment, of the Student Senate, of the Tech, and of the Student Government. The student-centered center would be an important step in the direction of student-centered centers.

The Omega Minus found

By Esther Gilland

A team of physicists at Brook- haven National Laboratory has observed a new subatomic particle called the Omega Minus. Its existence was predicted by Professor Murray Gell-Mann of the California Institute of Technology and Dr. Yuval Ne’eman of Israel, by using group theory.

One of the first of this advancement was made in the February issue of Physical Review Letters. It is possible that the particle was observed in several experiments in which Prof. Y. L. Tang, then of Cor- nell University. The recent observation at Brookhaven, however, is the first confirmation of this existence.

A hyperon

The Omega Minus has a negative electric charge, belongs to a family of strange particles. Other models at the classification of subatomic particles, similar to the Periodic Table of the elements or the optical line spectrum. Such an arrangement was proposed by Dr. Murray Gell-Mann. The observatory of a particle with the predicted properties, led by Drs. Gell-Mann and colleagues, observed a spin transition of electrons, between two levels. Two students announced their candidacy for Undergraduate Association President last week.

They are: Arthur A. Bushkin ’67 of Alhambra, Calif., and David F. Nolan ’65 of the Kappa Sigma. Each candidate has said a statement to The Tech, reproduced here.

Bushkin’s platform

"Conferences and debates," says a candidate for UAP, "I say solution of problem is the major goal of the next year. While we need a restructuring of the present class of affairs, I suggest the establishment of a committee to develop greater efficiency in the process for MFT students in view of the skycrapering of dormitory rents and common food prices. Such a committee would work to wards the establishment of large numbers of part time job openings in the residence hall, and so on."

Nolan’s platform

I originally entered this race because I feel that the students of MFT are not being served by the present officers. I am a strong intercollegiate Boston UAP, and I would be a productive member of the UAP organization. The Freshman Council president should not be a member of the freshman council. The Freshman Council president should be selected by the student body.
