Wednesday, February 10
Wrestling (F) - Amherst, Away, 2:15 p.m.
Wrestling (F) - Harvard, Away, 6:30 p.m.
Fencing (V) - Brandeis, Home, 3:00 p.m.
Fencing (V) - Brandeis, Home, 6:00 p.m.

Thursday, February 11
Basketball (F) - New Hampshire, Home, 6:15 p.m.
Basketball (F) - New Hampshire, Home, 8:00 p.m.
Wrestling (F) - Rhode Island College, Home, 5:00 p.m.

Friday, February 12
Fencing (V) - Brooklyn College, Home, 4:00 p.m.
Hockey (F) - Wesleyan, Home, 7:00 p.m.
Fencing (V) - Brandeis, Home, 2:00 p.m.
Fencing (V) - Brandeis, Home, 5:00 p.m.
Fencing (V) - Brandeis, Home, 7:00 p.m.
Hockey (F) - Bowdoin, Away, 4:00 p.m.
Fencing (V) - Norwich, Home, 3:00 p.m.
Fencing (V) - Norwich, Home, 5:00 p.m.

Saturday, February 13
Fencing (V) - Lowell Tech, Home, 1:00 p.m.
Skiing (F) - Norwich Carnival, Home, 1:00 p.m.
Skiing (F) - Norwich Carnival, Home, 1:00 p.m.
Basketball (F) - Westminster, Home, 2:00 p.m.
Basketball (F) - Westminster, Home, 4:00 p.m.
Basketball (F) - Westminster, Home, 6:00 p.m.

Record now at 2-6

By John Kopelow
In its one-sided game of the year the MIT varsity hockey team was crushed by an opposing team on January 19, by the one-sided score of 13-0. Actually the difference between the two teams was not nearly so great, for both teams had nearly the same number of goals at the goal. This was just one of the games of the year that the Beavers lost.

More recently, the MIT Invitational Tournament began with the Beavers dropping in a hole by starting off with a loss to Connecticut by the score of 8-4. The game was rather sloppily played by both teams, but it took the Beavers full force to combat the fierce competition throughout the tournament.

Fall in 2nd period
For two periods Tech was the stronger team as they led 3-2 at the end of the first period. In the beginning minutes of the third and final period Connecticut began to slow down, thus crushing Tech's spirit. Captain Blake Norvell '65 picked up 2 goals for MIT. Sophomores Charlie Queeney and Bob Smith got one each.

The following week the Beavers sided past WPI, 2-0. Despite playing rather sloppily in front of the home crowd and remaining in the 0-0 tie for the first hour and remaining in the 0-0 tie for the first hour, and finally winning 2-0.

How They Did
Basketball
MIT (V) 94, Lowell Tech 69
Tulsa 78, MIT (F) 77
MIT (F) 76, Lowell Tech 64
MIT (V) 80, Idaho National
Team 64

Volleyball
MIT (V) 95, Johns Hopkins 53
MIT (H) 68, N. Y. State

Wrestling
MIT (V) 24, Colorado Tech 10
MIT (F) 29, Connecticut 8

Swimming
MIT (F) 21, Amherst 69
MIT (V) 56, Holy Cross 38
Phillips Exeter 55, MIT (F) 40

Fencing
MIT (V) 40, Columbia 53
Columbia 59, MIT (F) 52
MIT (V) 46, MIT (F) 32

Track
MIT (V) 100, Florida Southern 0

Field Hockey
MIT (V) 31, Idaho National 10
Hofstra 11, MIT (V) 10
MIT (F) 14, Rhode Island 12

Squash
Princeton 9, MIT (V) 6

Technical Writers Society, PIDE
to sponsor technical essay contest

The Boston chapter of the Society of Technical Writers and Publishers and Phi Delta Epilson, a national honor society in journalism and fraternity, are sponsoring a technical writing competition for the students of MIT, Boston University, Northeastern, Simmons, Tufts, and the University of Massachusetts.

The competition is open to students in these area colleges who are enrolled in a science or engineering curriculum. Each contestant may submit one original paper of not over 1,500 words. Papers will be judged by STWP members from area colleges and organizations, arranged, clarity, value to the intended audience, and adherence to technical writing techniques. Prizes include $50 and two twenty-five dollar savings bonds.

The contest is open to students in these area colleges who are enrolled in a science or engineering curriculum. Each contestant may submit one original paper of not over 1,500 words. Papers will be judged by STWP members from area colleges and organizations, arranged, clarity, value to the intended audience, and adherence to technical writing techniques. Prizes include $50 and two twenty-five dollar savings bonds.

The contest is open to students in these area colleges who are enrolled in a science or engineering curriculum. Each contestant may submit one original paper of not over 1,500 words. Papers will be judged by STWP members from area colleges and organizations, arranged, clarity, value to the intended audience, and adherence to technical writing techniques. Prizes include $50 and two twenty-five dollar savings bonds.

The contest is open to students in these area colleges who are enrolled in a science or engineering curriculum. Each contestant may submit one original paper of not over 1,500 words. Papers will be judged by STWP members from area colleges and organizations, arranged, clarity, value to the intended audience, and adherence to technical writing techniques. Prizes include $50 and two twenty-five dollar savings bonds.

The contest is open to students in these area colleges who are enrolled in a science or engineering curriculum. Each contestant may submit one original paper of not over 1,500 words. Papers will be judged by STWP members from area colleges and organizations, arranged, clarity, value to the intended audience, and adherence to technical writing techniques. Prizes include $50 and two twenty-five dollar savings bonds.