Riflemen beat Brooklyn; Take 3rd in tournament

By Karl Frederich

Tech riflemen triumphed over Brooklyn College, 1334-1356, in a non-league home match last Friday and took third place in an intercollegiate tournament held at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn. on Saturday. All firing was done on standard "American" targets.

Leading the attack on Brooklyn was Jim Dowdward '65, with an outstanding 295, followed by Dave Hamada '63, 278; Karl Frederich '66; Andy Beamant '67, 273; and Tom Hutzelman '66, 275. In Saturday's action, MIT employed students on a comprehensive file listing companies, job offerings across the country which regularly employ students on a summer basis, including in several overseas job programs.

Graduating seniors have access to an extremely thorough library of graduate school catalogs from around the world, graduate fellowship information and permanent job opportunities. Those interested in either the Peace Corps or the military may also find guidance at the Placement Bureau.

The Placement Bureau is continually trying to keep the student body informed of all available opportunities. Notices concerning interviews with companies, job offers across the country (including summer programs), graduate school and financial aid information, foreign opportunities, and Peace Corps and military announcements are sent periodically to all living department counselors and other faculty members.

The Placement Bureau, one of the largest on any campus in the country, attempts to meet the requirements of its entire student body.
