ONCE MORE UNTO THE BREACH

Today I begin my eleventh year of writing this column in your campus newspaper. I wasn’t sure I’d be coming back this year. After a decade of doing this column, I had retreated to my country seat, tired but happy, to enjoy a nice long rest. But last night as I set my reverie, peaceful and serene, humming the long song of a Long Dog’s Night and wrestling my dog, a stranger suddenly appeared before me.

He was tall, clean-shaven man, crinkly-eyed and unsmoked, solemn and virile. “How do you do?” he said. “My name is Stalwart Virile and I am with the Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blade people.”

“Enchanted,” I said. “Fare off your homuncul and sit down,” I slapped my hands sharply. “Normal,” I called. “Another chair for Mr. Virile?”

“Another chair for Mr. Virile!”

Obdolutely my dog trotted away and returned directly with a familiar chair of Malayan rattan. He was the smartest dog in our block.

“I suppose you’re wondering why I am here,” said Mr. Virile, settling himself. “Well, sir,” I replied, my old eyes twinkling mischievously. “I’ll wager you didn’t come to read my meter.”

MILLARD FILLMORE BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

The Millard Fillmore Benevolent Society of the University of Colorado has endorsed a candidate for the position of Student Body President. The endorsement stated: “We feel, and be- lieve from discussions concerning his vast qualifications in the (Col- ored) Daily newspaper and elsewhere, that of all candidates either running or not running for the position, Mr. Bill Brand made most closely resembles the ideals for which our beloved Millard Fillmore stood.”

As might have been mentioned for this article came from the newspapers from other colleges were to us through our system. In evidence of the far-reaching effects of the exchange program is one paper The Tech received from the Japan Women’s University, Tokyo, Japan. Called the Metro Tatler, the newspaper is printed in Eng- lish and is very interesting. The only thing that might be mentioned is that in the last we received there was nothing of particular note worth printing.
