Letters: Power of Press

To the Editor:

We MIT students are indeed spoiled. Acquainted as we are to our authentic courses, we have great contempt for anything which lacks professional polish. Such attitude is clearly indicated by your sorrowful editorial on the last Great Court. The freedom of a free society is the right of people to convene and discuss an issue in public. It is plain fact that the toehold was not a roaring success. But rather than ending presentation, we felt that a few interested individuals on the MIT campus took advantage of their right to convene and discuss. You choose to cast shame upon the participants.

With your current editorial policy, MIT campus life is doomed to stagnation.

Rhododendrons Poisoned; Gayboy Votes Isolationist

By Phyl Phyrn

While flying over the campus this week, I noticed a few main contents watering the rhododendrons in the Great Court. Pedestrians have handled the matter; however, AES and IAC both claim that they have control over the rhododendrons. Since the plants have all disappeared.

A new Student Center Trust Committee, headed by Blythe Peirce, has been formed to review all furniture in the new building. Negotiations are under way to remove the Student Union on the Academic Quadrant.

Plans for a Tech-Harvard mixer were vetoed in Activities Council purchase of Goya's 'Naked Maja', Pierre, has been formed to review them.

Men could have more fun by

The other day, when a leading witch doctor came to exercise the MIT campus, only a handful of interested students were present to welcome him, although he has 2 million followers and 31 wives. The apathy of this campus never ceases to amaze us! It is a veritable pit of stagnation.

The task before us is stupendous. Due to the naive, smug, intellectually shoddy posturing of our predecessors, who really ever reads this rag, so we must find some way of reaching the naive, isolated students. We will have a mass meeting in the Great Court to discuss the campus news on Saturday, May 29, at 1:30 p.m.

We expect a large turnout, especially from freshmen, who are not too far gone to react to the call to arms.

Today's hand is devoted to the breed of bridge players or those who call themselves bridge players, who add infinite variety to the game, not by playing bridge.

At the card table, the most important people were present to welcome him, although it was a veritable pit of stagnation.

FREEDOM OF RELIGION ON CAMPUS

It is a real pleasure to see the edit page of the Reamer in responsible hands at last (ours). Our policy is to make this page a completely open forum for our ideas, without the cramping restrictions of readers' taste, interest, or maturity.

One of the commonest pitfalls of the juvenile journalist is the assumption that his peers are intelligent; we won't make that mistake.

APPENDIX

By Khuk Kold

1. It is not true that the Lecturer's Committee has been given a monopoly on campus. Having of all 35mm films, 16mm films, 8mm films, colored slides, and filthy postcards.

2. It is not true that the Social Service Committee has been placed on the ADB's General List of Campus front organizations.

3. It is not true that any of the previous columns is greater than the column preceding it.
