The MIT Dramastop will present its first evening of unscripted plays this season at 8:30 p.m., Friday, October 15, in the Little Theater of Kresge Auditorium. The plays, written by two exponents of the theater of the absurd, are Eugene Ionesco's "Improvisation" or The Shepherd's Channel and Harold Pinter's "A Right Way."

In "Improvisation" Ionesco takes a critical look at modern drama using himself as a character in his own play. In "A Right Way," Pinter experiments with a more realistic style than in his other plays. However, the play is typical of Pinter's attitude toward the conflicts between society and a man incapable of coping with it. A discussion of the production and a coffee hour will follow the performance.

Poetry contests offer $1600 in prizes
—$500 for book-length manuscript

Offering $1500 in cash prizes, the Second Annual Kansas City Poetry Contest is now open. Four different awards are offered, three of which are open to all residents of the United States. The Deriaz Memorial Award of $200 is given for a book-length manuscript. Along with the cash is included the publishing of the book by the University of Missouri Press. The Kansas City Star Awards are open only to residents of the Great Plains region. The Hallmark Honor Prizes, sponsored by Hallmark Cards, offers six $100 prizes for single poems by full-time college students. The H. Jay Sharp Prizes amount to four $250 gifts for single poems by high school students. Closing date for submission of entries in all the contests is Feb. 15, 1966. Winners will be announced April 28 in Kansas City. Entrants must submit their work with no clue to authorship. The author's name must be enclosed in a sealed envelope clipped to the entry.

"God and Golem" discussion planned

On Thursday, Oct. 14, at 7:30 p.m. the MIT Hillel Society will present a discussion of "God and Golem Inc." by the late Norbert Wiener. Discussing this National Book Award-winning book will be Dr. Jerome B. Wiener, dean of the School of Science, and Dr. Walter A. Rosenbluth, professor of Communications Biophysics. Discussion will be held in the remnant lounge of the Student Center. The public is welcome to attend.
