moral... Can education bring happiness?

This is a question that in recent years has caused much lively debate and several hundred skirmishes among American college professors. Some contend that if a student's inect is sufficiently aroused, happiness will automatically follow. Others tend to concentrate on the intellect and ignore the rest of the personality can only lead to misery. I may favor the second view, and I offer in evidence the well-known case of Knut Fusco.

Knut, a former major, not got anything less than a straight "A," was awarded a B.T. (Bachelor of Trees) in only two years, his M.S. (Master of Sap and Bark) in only three, and has 0.C. (Doctor of Bright and Cutworms) in only four.

Large iodine crystal grown by new process

For the first time in history, a pure single crystal of iodine was produced by a new vapor-process. Strangely enough, the crystal was not grown under careful conditions. In fact, it was produced by the power of his intelligence, his overstrained capacity for menthol, but as well as a marvelous god, indulging at the same time his respect in the eyes of the people until he can become the beneficient dictator of the land.
