'Cat Ballou' trite but good comedy

LSC is presenting tonight the Russian movie, 'The Overcoat' in the cinema of the 'The Passengers.' This film is based on a novel by Gogol. Tomorrow, it's 'Cat Ballou' for everyone. Although Jane Fonda gets top billing in this movie, Lee Marvin steals the show in this funny western. With only a shadow of a plot, something about a young girl avenging her murdered father, the movie turns out some of the most unforgettable scenes in the cinema's history.

As Lee Marvin charges precariously from a horse or drops his pants in a quick draw, the audience soon realizes the cosmic potential of this actor once known for his role in 'M Squad.' Interestingly, because of the trite western plot, 'Cat Ballou' nevertheless will be rewarding and funny for most who see it.

Students for Democratic Society to sponsor new weekly Political Economy Seminar

The MIT chapter of Students for a Democratic Society, which last term expanded its scope to include a greater victory of social reform, has announced that it will sponsor a weekly Political Economy Seminar and several special discussions.

The weekly seminar, entitled 'Education: What's Missing?' attempts to serve as a catalyst for university research by drawing together students interested in an analyzing MIT's academic life. Anticipated consequences of this seminar include suggestions for reform, papers for distribution, and course and department criticism.

The SDE is sponsoring a lecture Friday, March 4, by Julian Bond of SNCC, Jim Donaldson, a member of the 'open bidders' in Vietnam, and Sen. Young (D., Ohio).
