Conference to host 200 delegates

By Juergen Hahn

An interdisciplinary conference on the topic of "The Urban Challenge" is expected to attract about 200 student delegates from 96 colleges and universities. The general public is invited to attend the open sessions of the conference.

Opening sessions will be held at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, April 13, and at 9:00 a.m. on Thursday, April 14, in Kresge Auditorium.

The speakers are all distinguished scholars, economists, and political analysts from the nation. The speakers are all distinguished scholars, economists, and political analysts from MIT, with profiles ranging from American, British, and Russian perspectives.

MIT demonstrators participate in protest against Vietnam policy

By Sue Downs

About fifty students conducted a political demonstration Saturday afternoon to protest the use of United States troops to support the Vietcong in Vietnam. The demonstration was held in the Boston Commons from about 1 to 2 p.m.

The students began their protest by marching around in circles and carrying signs. Intermittently, they shouted chants against the war in Vietnam. The chants included "bread not bombs," "Vietnam for the Vietnamese," and "Rush B. Lincoln, Moderator." The demonstration was sponsored by the MIT Committee to End the War in Vietnam, the Cambridge Student Alliance, and the Boston and the Cambridge Student Alliance.

Disarmament game at Parents' Weekend

As part of the departmental activities Saturday morning of Parents' Weekend, Matthew Bostom of Course 17 will present a political science game. Interested parents may participate with British, American, and Russian negotiators at a disarmament conference in the Boston Commons. The conference will be held in Kresge Auditorium.

The success, parents must read relevant materials beforehand. They should like to participate in the game. Parents are invited to send their names and addresses with the names and addresses with the names and addresses of their children on the form at the bottom of this page.

MIT students to vote on ring change

Sophomores will have the opportunity to vote on the new ring (right) which has been proposed by the Class of 1968.

The game should be at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, April 16, in the lobby of Building 10.

About fifty students conducted a "chicken" and "cowards" protest Saturday afternoon to protest the use of United States troops to support the Vietcong in Vietnam.

The demonstration was held in the Boston Commons from about 1 to 2 p.m. The students began their protest by marching around in circles and carrying signs. Intermittently, they shouted chants against the war in Vietnam. The chants included "bread not bombs," "Vietnam for the Vietnamese," and "Rush B. Lincoln, Moderator." The demonstration was sponsored by the MIT Committee to End the War in Vietnam, the Cambridge Student Alliance, and the Boston and the Cambridge Student Alliance.

Disarmament game at Parents' Weekend

As part of the departmental activities Saturday morning of Parents' Weekend, Matthew Bostom of Course 17 will present a political science game. Interested parents may participate with British, American, and Russian negotiators at a disarmament conference in the Boston Commons. The conference will be held in Kresge Auditorium.

The success, parents must read relevant materials beforehand. They should like to participate in the game. Parents are invited to send their names and addresses with the names and addresses of their children on the form at the bottom of this page.

MIT students to vote on ring change

Sophomores will have the opportunity to vote on the new ring (right) which has been proposed by the Class of 1968.

The game should be at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, April 16, in the lobby of Building 10.

About fifty students conducted a "chicken" and "cowards" protest Saturday afternoon to protest the use of United States troops to support the Vietcong in Vietnam.

The demonstration was held in the Boston Commons from about 1 to 2 p.m. The students began their protest by marching around in circles and carrying signs. Intermittently, they shouted chants against the war in Vietnam. The chants included "bread not bombs," "Vietnam for the Vietnamese," and "Rush B. Lincoln, Moderator." The demonstration was sponsored by the MIT Committee to End the War in Vietnam, the Cambridge Student Alliance, and the Boston and the Cambridge Student Alliance.

Disarmament game at Parents' Weekend

As part of the departmental activities Saturday morning of Parents' Weekend, Matthew Bostom of Course 17 will present a political science game. Interested parents may participate with British, American, and Russian negotiators at a disarmament conference in the Boston Commons. The conference will be held in Kresge Auditorium.

The success, parents must read relevant materials beforehand. They should like to participate in the game. Parents are invited to send their names and addresses with the names and addresses of their children on the form at the bottom of this page.

MIT students to vote on ring change

Sophomores will have the opportunity to vote on the new ring (right) which has been proposed by the Class of 1968.

The game should be at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, April 16, in the lobby of Building 10.