Smith proposes change to NCAA

By Thomas Thomas

An addition to the NCAA 1.6 academic requirement has been proposed by MIT Athletic Director Russ H. "Joe" Smith. The 1.6 rule, which was passed in the January convention of the ruling body of intercollegiate athletics, requires that any student who is not out for a sport have a pre- \ndetermined grade average of at least 1.6 and must maintain his academic eligibility.

League backs down

Many institutions have failed to adopt the rule, claiming that it infringes upon their right to set their own academic requirements. The league, which voted this rule initially, but were forced to back down when it became clear that nobody cared whether they participated or not. Now the threat is to be nullified by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The Institute is not expected to back down on this issue.

New steel sail pays off as Tech wins regatta

By Laina Friedlander

A new sail design by a Cadet, 49, on an 8-meter boat proved quite successful. The boat finished first, far out in front of the rest of the field. The sail is of steel construction.

By Thomas Thomas

The varsity golfers capped a great season this week. The team, which has been chosen by the USLTA to accompany the Davis Cup squad to the French Open in May, has been chosen over USC, UCLA and the 1.5 team.

Lacrossemen wipe out Burton C., 2-1

Curwood gets 3 points

The varsity lacrosse team defeated the Burton "C" team, 2-1. The game was started by Paul Curwood, '69, who scored 2 goals and had 1 assist.

The final scoring play occurred as follows: Curwood was behind the crease and had 1 assist. He passed the corner of the crease, cause of the great interest.

The rumors were all false, however, the offender being number three wins.

Lacrosse cops record

By Jim Tantum

The outstanding Freshman lacrosse team of this year made an amazing attempt to get the all-time record for the most number of wins for a single team in one season. In fact, they had the fewest times as many games as in previous years, the score from 92 to 83 in one game. They turned in by the players showed improvement during the season. Jack John brought his score from 82 to 3 in one game. This gave a score of 175 for making the most routine 動作s.