I2

iii

The second time

Cambridge summers are long and dreary, particularly to the breed of species known as a VooDoo staffer.

Our weary, ill-tempered staff should not be held responsible when a group of bored present and past Voo-

Dooers meet in the hallowed atmosphere around the brown-brick building that the freshmen class whose main achievement to date consisted of appearing on the left-hand side of the registrars 'Admit-tations' to about 500 members of the Class of 1970 in the first few weeks at MIT are seen little student political zeal released among State Universities and butions. MIT's share, it was Among the United States, we have a Bull Moose Club, Young Americans for Freedom, the Students for a Democratic Society, the student's concern with the world he lives in. This campus contains chapters of the founded in announcing a he camous can do with it would be appre-

Second-class postage paid at Boston, Massachusetts. Return service available. Published Tuesday during the summer, except during college vaca-

The first few weeks at MIT are bound to produce more action as student groups reorganize and recruit.

The second class postage paid at Boston, Massa-can be expected. The Ph.D. candidates of the class of 1970 are

Dean of Residence and in addition dur-gately conversation. On top of all this fought a generation of

in sympathy

When Julie Fassett died suddenly

When Julie Fassett retired earlier this summer, we miss her, we can only extend our heartfelt sympathy to the man whom she served and helped and companion for almost forty years.

We will miss her, especially now that she couldn't have had an occasion to visit from Maine where she and Dean Fassett retired earlier this summer. As later - as she made her way about the campus.

The undergraduate Activities Council,

Chairman

Dana Kress '67

Managing Editors

Robert Harris '69

Business Manager

Guillio Ces '67

Features Editor

Mike Rodburg '68

Photography Editor

Law Gallant '67

Business Representative

Nick Cervetti '68

Editorial Assistants

Jett Boven '68

Features Assistant

Curly White '69

Production Manager

Tom Trexler '69

Art Director

Herb Finger

Credit Manager

Gary Quinn '70

Associate Sports Editor

Jim McNamee '68

Vol. LXXXVI, No. 28 Sept. 16, 1966

Board of directors

We will miss her, especially now that she couldn't have had an occasion to

visit from Maine where she and Dean Fassett retired earlier this summer. As

fought a generation of

in sympathy

When Julie Fassett died suddenly

When Julie Fassett retired earlier this summer, we miss her, we can only extend our heartfelt sympathy to the man whom she served and helped and companion for almost forty years.

We will miss her, especially now that she couldn't have had an occasion to

visit from Maine where she and Dean Fassett retired earlier this summer. As

later - as she made her way about the campus.

The undergraduate Activities Council, chaired by VooDoo editor Keith Patterson, and the Faculty Committee on Disbursals, will be requested to act on the matter.

It is not all, You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the peo-

lpe some of the time, but you can't fool

Lincoln.

Demonstrate sense

The long hot summer is over, but it would be surprising if one facet of student life, the political demonstration, fails to reach its hottest point in the few months.

The second time around wasn't a feat what appeared to be control of the defense arm

What all of us need to remember, however, is that honorable men can disagree honorably. The other fellow can still be considered both sane and human even if he doesn't agree with you on business. Every student desires an unlisted bulletin

A former footnote has Time-Life award is named in

Judge Golovin '67

Entertainment Editor

Mark Guszta '67

Intramural Sports Manager

Seidenfeld '68

President

Ilona Golovin

Features Editor

Larry Seidenfeld '68

Circulation Manager

Herb Finger

Executive Editor

Jeff Stalises...