Things happen... with Old Spice Lime

Precisely what things depends on what you have in mind. Whatever it is, Old Spice LIME can help. Its spicy, lime-spiked aroma is very persuasive...but so subtle, even the most wary woman is trapped before she knows it! Worth trying? You bet it is!

Old Spice LIME Cologne, After Shave, Old Set. By the makers of original Old Spice.

announcing Christmas flights 1966

Chicago $92.80
St. Louis 103.99
Denver 171.78
Los Angeles 269.90
San Francisco 269.90

Tech Travel Service x 7010

Dr. Louis Y. Bardfield
Optometrist
Announces the opening of his new office
879 BEACON STREET
At Park Drive - Boston
Specializing in the fitting of CONTACT LENSES
436-1222

Pye supports Red China in UN

By Cary Bolluck

The time has come for the United States to reverse its sixteen-year old policy of opposing Communist China's admission to the United Nations. Such is the belief of the twenty-seven members of the United Nations Association as expressed in a sixty-four page report submitted to the State Department.

One member of this association is MIT Political Science Professor Leston W. Pye.

Others of the list of distinguished people are named as A. Daniel Barnett, acting director of the UN, such as East Asian Studies at Columbia University, Everett Carson, President of the United Nations Association, Anna L. Stross, formerly President of the League of Women Voters, and Donald S. Zaspilis, professor of political science at Columbia University.

The Association feels that it is important that Communist China be admitted to the UN because its membership would strengthen moderate voices presently in Peking. Such influence, they believe, would possibly affect the successor to Mao Tse-tung to be.

The Association recommends that the United States begin "feel- ing out" other countries which have in the past been allies in opposition to China's admission to the UN.

An important advantage to China's membership would be that issues which are presently viewed by the United States as important, such as Vietnam, could finally be brought into effective international discussion.

Offered to the UN, this would mean that Nationalist China would forfeit its seat. The Association points out that the 12 million people in Taiwan would still need representation in the UN.

Seventeen of the members of the association firmly believe that Peking should be given a permanent seat on the Security Council. Four members of the association, including Pye, feel of MIT, are opposed to this action. They believe that such action is at this time "premature." They also doubt the legality of such a procedure, for it might require an amendment to Article 23 of the UN Charter, which might, as it (Please turn to Page 14)