West Point shooters down Tech; Swanson leads engineer squad

West Point edged out MIT's pick-tennis 21-20 Saturday, December 3, in the first match in which the Cadets have come within a hundred points of the Cadets. The U.S. Military Academy shares the national pistol title with the Air Force Academy.

High scorer for MIT was Dennis Swanson '68 with a 56 out of 600. Making up the rest of the total were John Reynolds '67 with 325, Achen Reed '70 at 323, and Mike DeFlambeau with 355. High scorer of the day was Merritt at West Point, an All-American, who shot a 570.

Junior grapplers shut out Emerson

In their opening meet of the season, the MIT junior varsity wrestlers shut out Emerson College, 4-0. At 133 pounds, Roger Chang '69 came from behind to win by a fall over Emerson's Dick Leonardi. Ed Trigg '58 also won by a pin in 2:45. Senior John Reynolds' 135-pound match was decided by default, and Jack Wu '68, left, piled up over 7 minutes of riding time to defeat Ed Conners '69. At 142 lbs., Marty Brooks, Geoff Smith '68 had no trouble with Tim Poirier, pinning him late in the second round of their match. At 177 pounds, Chris Davis '69 took 0:45 to pin Emerson's Ed Conners, 4-0. The MIT score climbed to 41 when Emerson forfeited the unlimited match to Tim Garvey '68.
