Lien-Ming Chui '70 has scored two impressive victories in ping pong over the recent term break. Chui, from Hong Kong, successfully defended his New England Singles Championship on January 26 at Providence, Rhode Island. Lien-Ming won his first New England title last October. This year's tournament consisted of 60 of the top table tennis players in the New England area. Chui went undefeated through seven opponents. Then, in New York a week later, he made it to the quarterfinals in the Eastern Open Singles Championships. The New York tournament had over 100 competitors. Lien-Ming eventually lost to the runner-up, Marty Reisman. He was not satisfied with this, however, and won the Eastern "B" singles title the next day. On Feb. 28, he plans to play in the Intercollegiate Championships at BU.

Can beer be too cold?

Maybe we shouldn't care how cold people drink beer...just so they drink ours. (After all, we're in business!)

But we do care. We go to such fuss and expense brewing all that beer to make sure our customers get it all out. And this is a fact: chilling beer to neat-freezing temperatures hides both taste and aroma. 40° is just right.

To make it easy for you, we've asked all the bartenders to serve Bud at 40°. Also, every refrigerator is designed to cool Bud at 40°.

Of course, if you're on a picnic or something and the Bud's on ice and nobody brought a thermometer...oh, well. Things can't always be perfect.
