Elections also hold

IBC contributes $2500 to Back Bay Corporation

Efforts toward a coordinated plan for the redevelopment of the Back Bay were taken last Thursday when $2,500 was raised by MIT fraternity was pres- ented for the Back Bay Redevelopment and Development Corporation.

A meeting for this purpose was presented following a dinner meet- ing of the IBC by Chairman Kevin Cahart, 79, who spoke in behalf of the Back Bay Corporation. Dr. James A. Branch, 71, president of Branch, was also present.

The meeting was initiated by the members of the IBC in connection with their efforts to raise an active and responsible role as members and residents of the Back Bay community.

Back Bay Redvelopment Author-

Back Bay received a boost last year after $2,500 was raised by MIT fraternities was pre-

Chapter, and Daniel J. Ahern, exc-

Back Bay Redvelopment Author-

Statistics for 1965-66

Statistics for the year 1965-1966 were released in an ex-President's statement released by the Corporation for the year ending last June 30. The report was re- quired to be made to all three committees of MIT.

The report of the most recent 1965-66 was 7,489, an increase of 29 percent over 1964-1965. Of this number, 3,755 undergraduates, 665 graduate students, and 3,680 undergraduate.

Graduate students who entered MIT last held degrees from 91 American and 129 foreign. The foreign students were from colleges in 91, or about 23 percent of the total enrollment, and represented 150 countries.

More student aid offered

Last year, 1,969 undergraduates, or about 5 percent of the total undergraduate enrollment, received $1,536,722 in scholarships, grants, and other aid, an increase in the total of about 24 percent over the year before.

The scholarship assistance granted increased 11 percent over MIT's endowment fund. The total was increased by $1,536,722, or about 23 percent of the total enrollment, and represented 150 countries.

The most recent 1965-66 was 7,489, an increase of 29 percent over 1964-1965. Of this number, 3,755 undergraduates, 665 graduate students, and 3,680 undergraduate.

Wiesner views disarmament plans

Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner (This article is the first in a series about the thoughts of Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, President of MIT, on the subject of disarmament.)

Dr. John F. Kennedy

An effective system of world disarmament is possible, according to Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, President of MIT, who has been sci- ence advisor to Presidents Eisen- hower, Kennedy, and Johnson. Wiesner recently in an article for the Associated Press that he is convinced that it is completely

Vietnam teach-ins draw 350

By Jim Smith

A Vietnam teach-in sponsored by the MIT Committee to End the War in Vietnam was held Thursday evening in 54-56. An over-

Quadrant for the year the coming year were held. Tom Neal '69 (PDT) was elected Chairman; Bob McCray '71 (DSR), Vice-Chairman; Dave Matherson '80 (CNS), Treasurer; and Steve Holmes '69 (SAS) Par-

The report was required to be made to all three committees of MIT.

Elections also hold

IBC contributes $2500 to Back Bay Corporation

Efforts toward a coordinated plan for the redevelopment of the Back Bay were taken last Thursday when $2,500 was raised by MIT fraternity was pres- ented for the Back Bay Redevelopment and Development Corporation.

A meeting for this purpose was presented following a dinner meet- ing of the IBC by Chairman Kevin Cahart, 79, who spoke in behalf of the Back Bay Corporation. Dr. James A. Branch, 71, president of Branch, was also present.

The meeting was initiated by the members of the IBC in connection with their efforts to raise an active and responsible role as members and residents of the Back Bay community.

Back Bay Redvelopment Author-

Back Bay received a boost last year after $2,500 was raised by MIT fraternities was pre-

Chapter, and Daniel J. Ahern, exc-

Back Bay Redvelopment Author-

Statistics for 1965-66

Statistics for the year 1965-1966 were released in an ex-President's statement released by the Corporation for the year ending last June 30. The report was re- quired to be made to all three committees of MIT.

The report of the most recent 1965-66 was 7,489, an increase of 29 percent over 1964-1965. Of this number, 3,755 undergraduates, 665 graduate students, and 3,680 undergraduate.

Graduate students who entered MIT last held degrees from 91 American and 129 foreign. The foreign students were from colleges in 91, or about 23 percent of the total enrollment, and represented 150 countries.

More student aid offered

Last year, 1,969 undergraduates, or about 5 percent of the total undergraduate enrollment, received $1,536,722 in scholarships, grants, and other aid, an increase in the total of about 24 percent over the year before.

The scholarship assistance granted increased 11 percent over MIT's endowment fund. The total was increased by $1,536,722, or about 23 percent of the total enrollment, and represented 150 countries.

The most recent 1965-66 was 7,489, an increase of 29 percent over 1964-1965. Of this number, 3,755 undergraduates, 665 graduate students, and 3,680 undergraduate.

Wiesner views disarmament plans

Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner (This article is the first in a series about the thoughts of Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, President of MIT, on the subject of disarmament.)

Dr. John F. Kennedy

An effective system of world disarmament is possible, according to Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner, President of MIT, who has been sci- ence advisor to Presidents Eisen- hower, Kennedy, and Johnson. Wiesner recently in an article for the Associated Press that he is convinced that it is completely