Record 6-2

Tech wrestlers down Tufts, 25-3

By Arm Vartanian

The varsity wrestling squad posted their season record to 6-2 last week, as they demolished Tufts squad 25-3. Their only loss came in the 160 lb. match to last year's second place finisher in the New England's, Tom Martin.

Bill Harris '88 started the meet with a 9-4 decision over Don Allmer. At 130 John Reynolds '97 handed John McMillon a 10-6 defeat. Jack Masham '86 followed with a 3-1 decision over Greg Gessey.

On Deck

Friday, February 13
Basketball (V)-Amherst, away, 8:15 pm
Hockey (V)-Hamline, home, 7:00 pm
Rowing (W)-Westtown, away, 6:30 pm
Soccer (V&F)-Tuftsvi, away, 4:00 pm
Skills (V)-BISA seniors at Williams
Saturday, February 14
Basketball (V)-Middlebury, away, 7:00 pm
Basketball (F)-Brown, home, 7:00 pm
Wrestling (V&F)-Massachusetts, home, 7:00 pm
Wrestling (F)-Massachusetts, away, 7:00 pm
Indoor Track (V&F)-
New Hampshire, home, 1pm
Soccer (F)-Stony Brook, home, 2pm
Swimming (V)-Springfield, away, 2pm
Swimming (F)-Springfield, away, 2pm
Fencing (F)-Leness School, away, 2pm
Skills (V)-BISA seniors at Williams
Skills (V)-New England College Carnival, away
Sunday, February 15
Skills (V)-New England College Carnival, away

MIT's varsity wrestling team will wind up its season this Saturday at 3:30 with a match here against the University of Denver. The team is in a good position to anticipate a victory, and spectators are encouraged to attend.

Capped topped by NU, 69-60; NCAA chances not eliminated

By John Kopolow

MIT's varsity basketball squad, which reached the NCAA tournament last year at Northeastern Huskies last Tuesday night and dropped a 91-85 overtime-winning contest to Northeastern. Huskies, which was only Tech's fourth loss of the season. MIT's NCAA re- won the game 91-85 later in the week. More important, it also makes more remants of Tech's chances of being the first team to win the NCAA regional tournament. Northeastern brought to Tech's first victory over a Top-20 team of the year, which has been one of the best college basketball ensembles in the nation. The Huskies' victory means that Tech's chances of being the first team to win the NCAA regional tournament are virtually nonexistent. The Huskies had a strong second half and never trailed in the game, leading by as much as 14 points early in the second half. Despite the loss, however, the Huskies were able to withstand the Tech challenge. The Huskies held MIT to 39.8 percent shooting from the field, while the Engineers shot 40.8 percent. The Huskies also outrebounded MIT 39-28 and held the Engineers to 21 turnovers. The Huskies' victory means that Tech's chances of being the first team to win the NCAA regional tournament are virtually nonexistent. The Huskies had a strong second half and never trailed in the game, leading by as much as 14 points early in the second half. Despite the loss, however, the Huskies were able to withstand the Tech challenge. The Huskies held MIT to 39.8 percent shooting from the field, while the Engineers shot 40.8 percent. The Huskies also outrebounded MIT 39-28 and held the Engineers to 21 turnovers. The Huskies' victory means that Tech's chances of being the first team to win the NCAA regional tournament are virtually nonexistent.

Bash leads 100-point attack as JV hoosters rout Curry

By Steve Wiener

Tech JV basketball team hit triple figures in a romp over Curry College, 100-59, Tuesday night Babson College. The next game for the skaters will be tonight at 7:00 p.m.

The onslaught continued in the second half, Bash completing a perfect night from the floor line with fourteen consecutive free throws and four field goals. Suchon then added three layups, a free throw and Santini a jumper in the waning seconds to raise the final count to 100-59.

The defense lapsed at times letting Curry go on a 10-2 run in the middle of the second half. Bash netted the Huskies' first points of the second half on a three point shot. Carroll immediately followed with a three point shot of his own. Curry responded with a three point shot of their own and put the game out of reach with a layup by Bash.

The defense looked solid on the other end of the court with Bash leading the way. Bash added three points in the first half and continued his efforts in the second half. Bash added a total of six points in the game.

Bash's 31 points were his fifth 30-point game of the season and his seventh 20-point game. Bash's 31 points were the most points scored by a Tech player in a game since Alex Bash '68 had 31 points against Hamilton College.

The underclassmen in the starting lineup were also impressive. Alex Bash '68 vwith 22 points and four field goals. Suchon missed a short bank shot, a free throw and four field goals. Santini opened the scoring with a three point shot and added a free throw late in the first half. Santini kept the scoring going with a three point shot in the second half.

The visitors went up 26-17 after a layup by Bash. The Huskies then scored 15 points in a row to take the lead. Bash added five points in the run to bring the score to 31-27. Curry responded with a three point shot and added another three point shot to bring the score to 33-26 by halftime.

Throughout the game, Bash was the key player for the Huskies. Bash scored 31 points on 10 of 13 shooting from the field. Bash added four rebounds and four assists. Bash was also perfect from the free throw line, making 10 of 10 attempts.

Bash's 31 points were his fifth 30-point game of the season and his seventh 20-point game. Bash's 31 points were the most points scored by a Tech player in a game since Alex Bash '68 had 31 points against Hamilton College.

The defense looked solid on the other end of the court with Bash leading the way. Bash added three points in the first half and continued his efforts in the second half. Bash added a total of six points in the game.

Bash's 31 points were his fifth 30-point game of the season and his seventh 20-point game. Bash's 31 points were the most points scored by a Tech player in a game since Alex Bash '68 had 31 points against Hamilton College.

The underclassmen in the starting lineup were also impressive. Alex Bash '68 vwith 22 points and four field goals. Suchon missed a short bank shot, a free throw and four field goals. Santini opened the scoring with a three point shot and added a free throw late in the first half. Santini kept the scoring going with a three point shot in the second half.

The visitors went up 26-17 after a layup by Bash. The Huskies then scored 15 points in a row to take the lead. Bash added five points in the run to bring the score to 31-27. Curry responded with a three point shot and added another three point shot to bring the score to 33-26 by halftime.

Throughout the game, Bash was the key player for the Huskies. Bash scored 31 points on 10 of 13 shooting from the field. Bash added four rebounds and four assists. Bash was also perfect from the free throw line, making 10 of 10 attempts.

Bash's 31 points were his fifth 30-point game of the season and his seventh 20-point game. Bash's 31 points were the most points scored by a Tech player in a game since Alex Bash '68 had 31 points against Hamilton College.

The defense looked solid on the other end of the court with Bash leading the way. Bash added three points in the first half and continued his efforts in the second half. Bash added a total of six points in the game.

Bash's 31 points were his fifth 30-point game of the season and his seventh 20-point game. Bash's 31 points were the most points scored by a Tech player in a game since Alex Bash '68 had 31 points against Hamilton College.

The underclassmen in the starting lineup were also impressive. Alex Bash '68 vwith 22 points and four field goals. Suchon missed a short bank shot, a free throw and four field goals. Santini opened the scoring with a three point shot and added a free throw late in the first half. Santini kept the scoring going with a three point shot in the second half.

The visitors went up 26-17 after a layup by Bash. The Huskies then scored 15 points in a row to take the lead. Bash added five points in the run to bring the score to 31-27. Curry responded with a three point shot and added another three point shot to bring the score to 33-26 by halftime.

Throughout the game, Bash was the key player for the Huskies. Bash scored 31 points on 10 of 13 shooting from the field. Bash added four rebounds and four assists. Bash was also perfect from the free throw line, making 10 of 10 attempts.

Bash's 31 points were his fifth 30-point game of the season and his seventh 20-point game. Bash's 31 points were the most points scored by a Tech player in a game since Alex Bash '68 had 31 points against Hamilton College.