The Tech believes it has a continuing obligation to observe and comment on the UAP election this Tuesday. We have one reason to believe that the problems confronting students and have watched closely the performance of these elected and unelected, and especially as they attempt to solve the problems.

There are three candidates for UAP this year, Bob Horvitz, Rick Kasirah, and Michael Warren. Bob Horvitz may be the best known of the three. Indeed, he would like to make it clear that the questions are related to his last campaign. His is a serious attempt. Unfortunately, Mr. Phillips' qualifications leave too much to be desired. We believe that a complete analysis of the results on the part of student government. His experience in S.C.E.P. has shown him how to face difficult issues at a high level, and he would most likely apply such skills as a student government leader. He has demonstrated a desire to bring together many of the elements which now cooperate very little, and hence we hope of value and effective and efficient administration.

On the other hand, we have watched Bob Horvitz as he first applied to the Tech, and later as he undertook activities of far reaching significance across a wide variety of student affairs. He has demonstrated his ability in such activities and the ability to inspire work of others. He is the candidate of the Boston Council, and in each instance has contributed exceptionally in time and energy to its operation. He is a record of continued service, accomplishment, and new ideas.

It is the unanimous decision of the Board of Directors of The Tech that Bob Horvitz has shown himself worthy of election and performance in every area which has concerned him. He brings with him a unique background in positions of leadership that very few candidates have ever brought to an election. We feel he has demonstrated a more substantial program of action—one which he will apply every means necessary to bring the ability to effect with great dispatch. We would expect him to continue in the work of other organizations with the enthusiasm and diligence. His past record of accomplishment, hard work, concern, and generally of activity for the future make him our unanimous choice for UAP.

Kasirah, his efforts on behalf of Pin- board, S.C.E.P., and Secretariat attest to his continued concern for the students. Having performed admirably since his election last year, he is a strong contender for the position of UAP. During his campaign he has stroked the need for appointments, an improvement on the part of student government. His experience in S.C.E.P. has shown him how to face difficult issues at a high level, and he would most likely apply such skills as a student government leader. He has demonstrated a desire to bring together many of the elements which now cooperate very little, and hence we hope of value and effective and efficient administration.

On the other hand, we have watched Bob Horvitz as he first applied to the Tech, and later as he undertook activities of far reaching significance across a wide variety of student affairs. He has demonstrated his ability in such activities and the ability to inspire work of others. He is the candidate of the Boston Council, and in each instance has contributed exceptionally in time and energy to its operation. He is a record of continued service, accomplishment, and new ideas.

It is the unanimous decision of the Board of Directors of The Tech that Bob Horvitz has shown himself worthy of election and performance in every area which has concerned him. He brings with him a unique background in positions of leadership that very few candidates have ever brought to an election. We feel he has demonstrated a more substantial program of action—one which he will apply every means necessary to bring the ability to effect with great dispatch. We would expect him to continue in the work of other organizations with the enthusiasm and diligence. His past record of accomplishment, hard work, concern, and generally of activity for the future make him our unanimous choice for UAP.