Nominations due for Baker Award

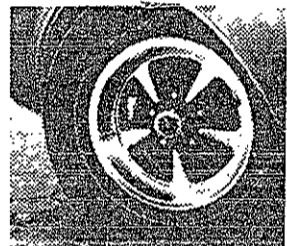

MIT undergraduates once again have the opportunity to nominate the faculty member they deem worthy of the Baker Award. This award has been given annually since its inception in 1963 by the Everett Moore Baker Foundation "in recognition of extraordinary interest and ability in inspiring interest and understanding of academic work" on the part of an undergraduate teacher. The award includes a $250 prize to be presented along with a plaque at the annual Awards Convocation. Last year's presentation of the award to four untenured faculty members was unique in marking the first time the award was shared by more than one instructor.

Nominations from undergraduates must be submitted before the meeting of the Baker Award Committee Sunday afternoon to either Ken Morse '68 (SC)

Do Italian movie actresses turn you on?

Do you look smashing in sunglasses? Do you think all sports cars should have wide-oval tires, bucket seats, carpeting, wood grain styled dash and a magical space-saver collapsible spare? Do you know a "carrozzzeria" isn't someplace where you buy bread? Do you want to drive a $12,000 sports car, but not pay for one? Do you wear driving gloves even when you're not driving? Do you crave extra-cost options like front-wheel disc brakes and a hood-mounted tach? Do you think stripes look better on cars than on ties? Do you know the Grand Prix circuit isn't an electrical connection? Do you think the sound of music is the chirp of wide-oval tires? Do you like to choose between five magnificent sports cars, from a 165-hp funster to a 325-hp ultimate road machine? If you answered yes to even one of these questions, see your Pontiac dealer today!
