Visitors view Open House exhibits

An estimated 20,000 people attended the 1967 Institute Open House Saturday. This figure, slightly lower than both the expected 30,000 and the 21,000 of two years ago, may be attributed to slightly press coverage in the Boston area and slight rain throughout the day.

Visits were divided to tours of the MIT campus and buildings; a variety of exhibits sponsored by individual departments, and lectures by well-known members of the Institute's faculty.

The exhibits, numbering two hundred in all, were conceived and constructed by about one hundred students and faculty. They ranged in topic from "The Truth about Quicksand" to "Science in the Charles." The most popular of these was the Electrical Engineering Department's strobe Light display. Another prime attraction was the Nuclear Engineering Laboratory which had 1200 visitors. There was standing room only at lectures by Professor Hans-Lucas Teuber of the Psychology Department.

The bus tours of the campus were also popular. These tours included visits to the Nuclear Engineering Laboratory, the Cyclotron, and the Sloan Building complex.

TRANSLATORS
wanted for part-time work

GERMAN — SPANISH
RUSSIAN — ITALIAN
FRENCH — GREEK
JAPANESE — PORTUGUESE
DUTCH — SWEDISH
DANISH — HOLLANDISH
and other Modern Languages

Send resume to P.O. Box 307
Cambridge, Mass.

Pin-Hi

How to look good on any golf course; play it bold with Pin-Hi, the 100% 2-ply cotton lisle knit that stays fresh and crisp to the eighteenth and beyond. Stays tucked-in too. An extra-long back tail keeps down while you hit. A great many standout colors, $6.00. Pick one out a few.

---ARROW---

Fahrenheit 451?
or the Coop?

Why burn your books when you’re through with them? When can sell them to the Harvard Coop and earn extra cash? The new Coop Bookstore and Record Shop in Harvard Square, the largest college bookstore in the country, will buy your books for cash.

The new Bookstore now has more than 40,000 titles on its three floors, including text and reference books, 20,000 paperbacks and one of the largest hard-cover and audio-visual departments in Greater Boston.

Bring your used books up to the third floor and sell them for cash. Then browse a little. Book-burning days are over.

---THE COOP---

Cambridge, Mass.

HOTEL CORPORATION OF AMERICA

RECEIVED 9/100, 1967
as returned to JAPANESE
DANISH - NORWEGIAN
GERMAN - SPANISH
RUSSIAN - ITALIAN
DUTCH - SWEDISH
FRENCH - GREEK

For college drop-ins:
special weekend rate

Date driving up for the Big Bash? Old prep school roommate coming to case the campus? Brother rushing down from Dartmouth for the weekend? Six jetting in for a Harvard Square Happening? Crash! Put them up in style for only $8.50 (single) per night on weekends, at the Cambridge Charter House. This figure, slightly lower than both the expected 30,000 and the 21,000 of two years ago, may be attributed to slightly press coverage in the Boston area and slight rain throughout the day.

Visits were divided to tours of the MIT campus and buildings; a variety of exhibits sponsored by individual departments, and lectures by well-known members of the Institute's faculty.

The exhibits, numbering two hundred in all, were conceived and constructed by about one hundred students and faculty. They ranged in topic from "The Truth about Quicksand" to "Science in the Charles." The most popular of these was the Electrical Engineering Department's strobe Light display. Another prime attraction was the Nuclear Engineering Laboratory which had 1200 visitors. There was standing room only at lectures by Professor Hans-Lucas Teuber of the Psychology Department.

The bus tours of the campus were also popular. These tours included visits to the Nuclear Engineering Laboratory, the Cyclotron, and the Sloan Building complex.

TRANSLATORS
wanted for part-time work

GERMAN — SPANISH
RUSSIAN — ITALIAN
FRENCH — GREEK
JAPANESE — PORTUGUESE
DUTCH — SWEDISH
DANISH — HOLLANDISH
and other Modern Languages

Send resume to P.O. Box 307
Cambridge, Mass.

Pin-Hi

How to look good on any golf course; play it bold with Pin-Hi, the 100% 2-ply cotton lisle knit that stays fresh and crisp to the eighteenth and beyond. Stays tucked-in too. An extra-long back tail keeps down while you hit. A great many standout colors, $6.00. Pick one out a few.

---ARROW---

Fahrenheit 451?
or the Coop?

Why burn your books when you’re through with them? When can sell them to the Harvard Coop and earn extra cash? The new Coop Bookstore and Record Shop in Harvard Square, the largest college bookstore in the country, will buy your books for cash.

The new Bookstore now has more than 40,000 titles on its three floors, including text and reference books, 20,000 paperbacks and one of the largest hard-cover and audio-visual departments in Greater Boston.

Bring your used books up to the third floor and sell them for cash. Then browse a little. Book-burning days are over.

---THE COOP---

Cambridge, Mass.

HOTEL CORPORATION OF AMERICA

RECEIVED 9/100, 1967
as returned to

For college drop-ins:
special weekend rate

Date driving up for the Big Bash? Old prep school roommate coming to case the campus? Brother rushing down from Dartmouth for the weekend? Six jetting in for a Harvard Square Happening? Crash! Put them up in style for only $8.50 (single) per night on weekends, at the Cambridge Charter House. This figure, slightly lower than both the expected 30,000 and the 21,000 of two years ago, may be attributed to slightly press coverage in the Boston area and slight rain throughout the day.

Visits were divided to tours of the MIT campus and buildings; a variety of exhibits sponsored by individual departments, and lectures by well-known members of the Institute's faculty.

The exhibits, numbering two hundred in all, were conceived and constructed by about one hundred students and faculty. They ranged in topic from "The Truth about Quicksand" to "Science in the Charles." The most popular of these was the Electrical Engineering Department's strobe Light display. Another prime attraction was the Nuclear Engineering Laboratory which had 1200 visitors. There was standing room only at lectures by Professor Hans-Lucas Teuber of the Psychology Department.

The bus tours of the campus were also popular. These tours included visits to the Nuclear Engineering Laboratory, the Cyclotron, and the Sloan Building complex.

TRANSLATORS
wanted for part-time work

GERMAN — SPANISH
RUSSIAN — ITALIAN
FRENCH — GREEK
JAPANESE — PORTUGUESE
DUTCH — SWEDISH
DANISH — HOLLANDISH
and other Modern Languages

Send resume to P.O. Box 307
Cambridge, Mass.

Pin-Hi

How to look good on any golf course; play it bold with Pin-Hi, the 100% 2-ply cotton lisle knit that stays fresh and crisp to the eighteenth and beyond. Stays tucked-in too. An extra-long back tail keeps down while you hit. A great many standout colors, $6.00. Pick one out a few.

---ARROW---

Fahrenheit 451?
or the Coop?

Why burn your books when you’re through with them? When can sell them to the Harvard Coop and earn extra cash? The new Coop Bookstore and Record Shop in Harvard Square, the largest college bookstore in the country, will buy your books for cash.

The new Bookstore now has more than 40,000 titles on its three floors, including text and reference books, 20,000 paperbacks and one of the largest hard-cover and audio-visual departments in Greater Boston.

Bring your used books up to the third floor and sell them for cash. Then browse a little. Book-burning days are over.

---THE COOP---

Cambridge, Mass.

HOTEL CORPORATION OF AMERICA

RECEIVED 9/100, 1967
as returned to