Sailors place 2nd in East; Osborn high point skipper

By Bill Michels

Tech's varsity sailing team finished second in this weekend's Eastern Old Guard dinghy sailing championship for the George A. Crocker Eastern dinghy super-regatta. The Engineers were sailed into a commanding lead of 17 points. Captain Char Otis '77 and Skipper Mike Meister '77 and the Engineers and his division with 81 out of a possible 91 points. Crowing for him was Jim Gal- lagher '81. In 'B' division Joe Freer '77 was 20 points behind the winning streak by blasting 164 points and Princeton third with 122 points.

Troubles plagued Tech

Sunday was marked by very high winds and, consequently, many engine failures. MIT quickly lost its lead when its 'B' division boat, skippered by Bill Freer and Dick Smith '80 of 'A' Crowing, ran into early trouble with a collision and then a disqualification in their second from. From third in the win he held the lead the whole way for the second meet between MIT and the Coast Guard and Princeton.

On the first day MIT had a 1 point lead, but then lost 3 points to Coast Guard to find itself second to Princeton's 81 point win. Osborn '77 was high point skipper for Tech with 33 points and a possible 156 points. MIT thus missed its third straight championship berth for the second in the East.

Tech lights out distance Dartmouth; finish 3 lengths behind Harvard

Tech lightweight crews outscore Dartmouth but fall victim to Harvard during a tri-meet held on Dartmouth's 200 meter course at Hanover last Saturday.

The first goal of the meet was to outscore Dartmouth and this goal Tech met with ease. The closest race of the day occurred in the JV division. With a half mile remaining Harvard had a length and a quarter over MIT. At this point the Beavers went into a half-mile sprint and kept the stroke of the day with a 73.

The win was record number one for the Tech lightweight crew.
