Students and staff to meet on Columbus Day climb

By Karen Watl

Looking for something different to do on Columbus Day? All members of the MIT community are invited to follow Institute President Harold E. ("Doc") Edgerton on a hike up the side of Mount Monadnock.

The student-staff acquaintance hike to the top of the 3166 foot (1040 meter) granite mountains near Jaffrey, New Hampshire is being sponsored by the MIT Faculty Club, MITAA, I.F., IAFC, Dormen, Inscmm, MITOC, and other MIT activities. It is a revival of the three-year tradition held by the Course VI Department about ten years ago.

Participants are asked to bring their own food for a picnic on top of the mountain and cups to drink from the springs. Hiking shoes and warm clothes are recommended since the path is rocky and weather on the mountain will be cool in October. To help the group become acquainted, members are asked to wear red ribbons on their lapels or collars and to introduce themselves to other ribboned climbers on the way up.
