Esquire Theatre chain refuses to honor tickets

(Continued from Page 1)

Edouard Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Barron's complaint Stokes said of Barron: "His actions have invalidated any contract we may have lost." He also hinted that people other than students, faculty, and staff were being sold the Samplers.

Dr. Lettvin will be speaking October 2, 1967, in the Massachusetts League of the Student Center, at 7:30. For Good students only. The topic is "Uses of Neurophysiology for Thought Control."

EDWARD STOKES, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Edward Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Edward Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Edward Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Edward Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Edward Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Edward Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Edward Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Edward Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Edward Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Edward Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Edward Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Edward Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.

Edward Stokes, general manager of the Esquire Theatres, stated that Barron had "no authority" to print the new tickets. He also stated that most Esquire theatres extended half price to students or faculty with or without Samplers.