Students must register motor vehicles

Any MIT student owning a motor vehicle must register it with the police of the town in which he lives. There is a $50 fine for non-compliance with this regulation.

LTV '67

Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., is among the top 50 industrial corporations in the United States, with projected 1967 consolidated sales in the range of $1.6 to $1.7 billion.

LTV's financial success — measured by its growth from $4 million in 1958 to a $4 billion company just a decade ago — is a direct result of a management principle of building values for our shareholders, our employees, our customers and the communities in which our companies operate.

We try to make LTV a good investment, a good place to work, a good place to buy a good product, and a good neighbor. Our growth, we feel, speaks for itself in demonstrating our success in each of these efforts.

LTV 1967 consists of a parent company and seven subsidiaries — each competing in a distinct industry, yet contributing a unified value for the entire LTV organization.

Through its seven companies, LTV participates in a wide variety of diversified, international markets: meat and food processing, aerospace, electronics, sports and athletic goods, transmission cable, pharmaceuticals and chemicals, and sound systems.

The LTV companies serve man's ancient basic needs for food, recreation and good health, and fulfill his 20th century technological requirements to explore and improve his environment and defend his homeland.

We welcome the opportunity to tell the LTV story to college students across the nation.
