Letters to The Tech

Collegiate Sampler

To the Editor:

Since 1960 the Collegiate Sampler program has primarily enabled thousands of student faculty and staff members in the Boston area to save money while at school by giving free admission to theatres and plays as well as discounts at restaurants and shops.

In seven years there have been remarkably few incidents involving an establishment not honoring their contract.

We are pleased to announce that the Esquire theatre chain is at present once again honoring their contract which does expire September 30, 1967 as previously reported by their general manager.

The statement that the Esquire theatre chain offers half price admission to college students at all times and every time will continue to be true.

Although this incident at the Esquire theatre chain was not our fault, we are pleased to announce that any MIT student who was refused admission at the Esquire chain. If he will contact us at the address in the booklet, we will offer at least one coupon of equal or greater value at no charge.

We would like to thank MIT students who notified us of Esquire’s breach of contract so that we were able to have rectified the situation in a short space of time.

With every good wish for a successful and money-saving year to all Tech students.

Tiddlywinks

To the Editor:

Can somebody please tell me how an MIT activity can become sufficiently developed to warrant funds from Pickboard? The MIT Tiddlywinks Association is sending a team to Waterloo, Canada at the end of October to the North American Tiddlywinks Championship being held in conjunction with the Univ. of Waterloo’s Tenth Anniversary Week, and we were counting on Pickboard’s demonstrating to us that there is an advantage to being an official MIT activity, that bureaucracy has its purpose. But no, 1/2 years growing on our own, and we are not militantly developed, yet I know that two years ago, in order to help develop a new activity, Pickboard financed the 12-man (4 of our own) Debate Club to the tune of $6,000. Moreover, I know that our organization is proudly point- to-in order to show freemansm the wide variety of activities MIT has to offer and I know also that MIT is also looking for publicity which our appearance in Waterloo (which will most likely be on Canadian National TV) will certainly provide.

More than just a gripe against Pickboard, this letter is a plea to the MIT Community to help us raise the $200-$250 we will need to send an 8-man team to Water- loo. I appeal to any organizations on campus with some money (like the Debate Club?), but much more to my fellow-students. Any- thing is welcome and will be used only towards bringing the North American title back to the US.

Thanks very much.
