Lang cites Stephan Smale case

(The Fracure of University Administrators.) In it he detailed failures in the form of secret projects and other agreements with the government.

The Smale case

Professor Lang related the case of Stephan Smale, a professor of mathematics at the University of California at Berkeley. Smale was at times active in political affairs, including participation on the Vietnam Day Committee. Female went to Moscow in the summer of 1960 to receive the Fields Medal, mathematics' highest honor, and to give a major address to the International Congress of Mathematicians, which was meetings that year.

Criticized by press

At that time the House Committee on Un-American Activities decided to subpoena him because of his political activism. When the subpoena could not be delivered to him in Europe, the San Francisco Examiner ran a story with this headline: "UN PROS DIGGLE SUBPOENA.
