MAKING THE SCENE

In case you missed the San Francisco Mime Troupe which played in Europe last weekend, you can catch it on November 18 at Brandeis' Sidney Theater. The Mime Troupe caused a minor furor among parents who brought their children to this suggestive and occasionally obscene, play. When a parent reviewer praised the production, a second wave of protest was formed by pro-Mime politicians. So, either you'll really like the performance or else.

Midnight movies: Midnight movies come to Boston again. After an unsuccessful attempt at the Beacon Hill Theater, the cinema at Kenmore Square is going to try late movies every Friday night at Midnight. This attempt should be successful because they are stealing their shows at the right people, featuring the best of the underground (experimental) cinema. This Friday features Kenneth Anger's "Fireworks" and the Vietnam documentary "Taxi of the Lost." Harvard Theatre, playing at the Louis Dean center.
