Visiting professors teach new subjects

Two Visiting Professors in Humanities will offer three courses next term — courses which are not listed in the catalog.

- Dr. Leston L. Havens, Professor of Psychiatry at the Harvard Medical School, will give an elective course entitled "The Development of Modern Psychiatric Ideas." The course will involve an investigation of modern psychiatry through a study of its past emphasizing the changes in the concept of mental illness through contributions of the various schools of psychiatric practice and theory.

- Dr. Dan Avni-Segre will offer two subjects in contemporary history. Head of the Department of Political Science at Bar Ilan University, Israel, Prof. Segre was formerly First Secretary of the Israeli Embassy in Paris. Assistant Director in the Afrique Department of the Israeli Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and Deputy Director of its information department. He will give one course on "The Idea of Nationalism in Emergent Countries," and another on "The Search for Political Identity in Africa South of the Sahara."
