Announced last May, the Wellesley-MIT experimental plan is supposed to serve as "a means of extending educational experiences available to students in the curricula and environments of both institutions." At the same time, the joint faculty-administration committee established to oversee the program from infancy contains Dean Virginia Oserdeek, Wellesley, and Dean Robert A. Alberty, MIT, co-chairmen, with Professor Virginia M. Fitz a.k.a. Phyllis J. Fleming, Walter E. Houghton, Kaldym Preyer, Patric Pardieu and Cheryl Emmer-
