on WBUR-FM, that it was "de-clar[ing] war on Cambridge." Demonsations were staged in Harvard Square and 14 salesman were arrested including the former executive editor of the Harvard Crimson and the chief of-er of Avatar. The salesmen were arrested because the Cambridge police were already present.

Seven-point agreement

In the days that followed, the seven-point agreement was signed and the demonstration settled.

The Cambridge Police Department will no longer have the authority to decide whether the city will prosecute for obscenity.
Rather, this will be in the hands of City Solicitor Cremon.

There will be no further arrests of Avatar or its salesman. Should the city decide to prosecute, the police will take the name and address of salesmen who will then receive summons not to have errors corrected.
